DEDICATION

Involvement has characterized his career at David Lipscomb College over the last twenty years.

As an educator, his dedication to his profession can be seen in the success that many of his former students have obtained. Not only do his classes teach students, but they also prepare students for the world that awaits them. His wisdom has been called upon for several terms by the Student Affairs Committee.

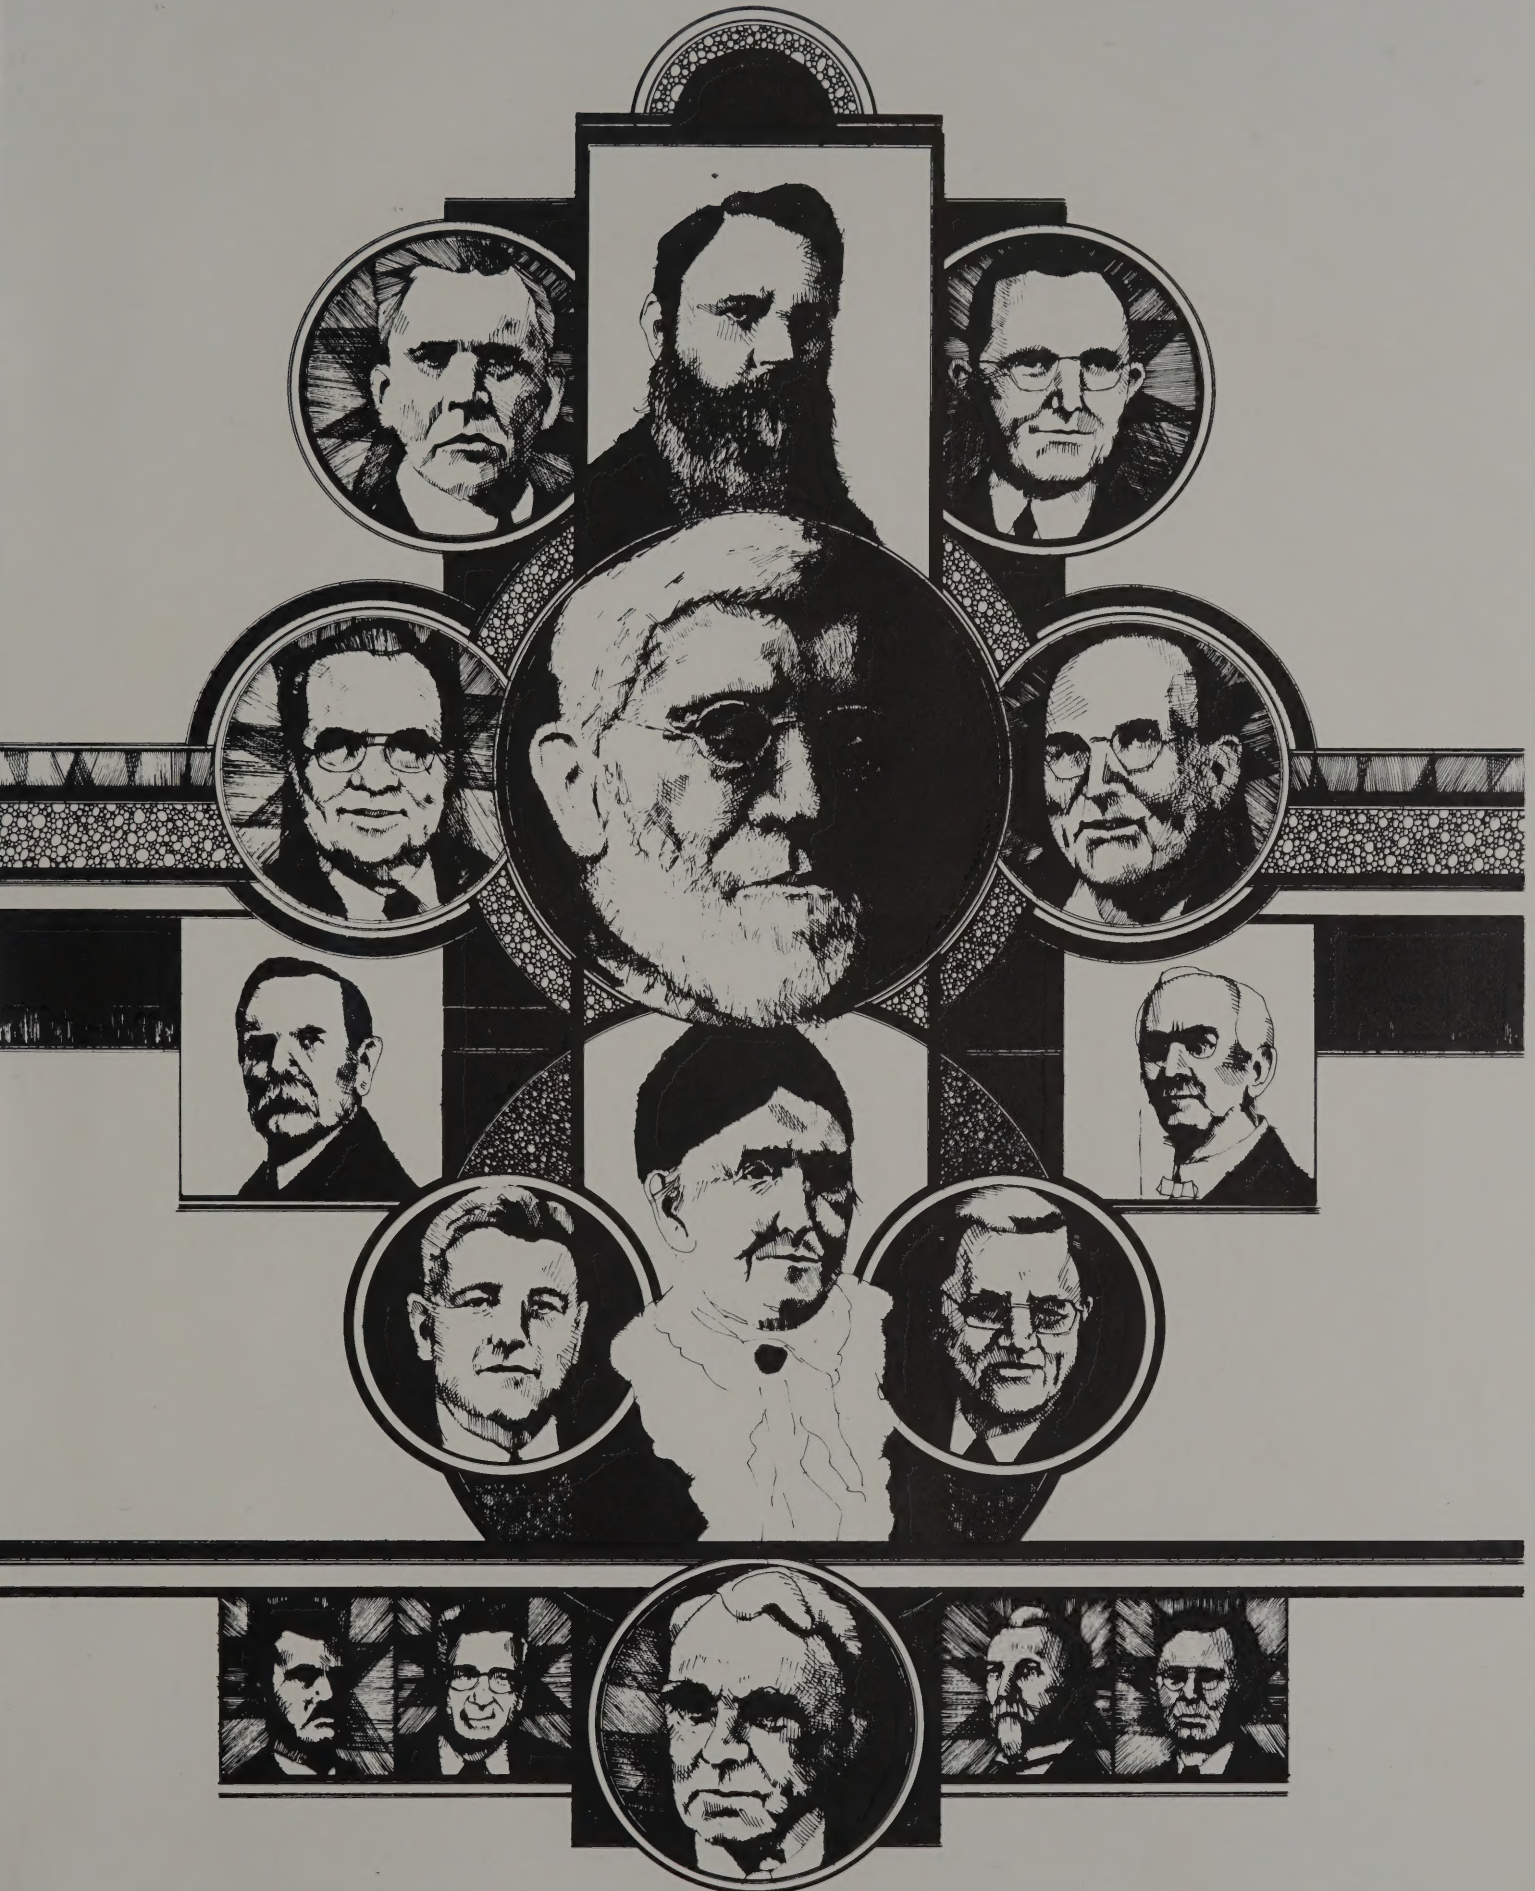

Through his involvement in the political community, he has earned recognition from Nashville to Washington, D.C. As a result, he has instilled a feeling of civic responsibility in a generation of students. His ability to separate the classroom activities from extracurricular activities is one of his unique attributes. He sees his students as growing and maturing human beings, but more importantly, he sees them as his friends.

Because of his affiliation with the Tau Phi men's social club since 1969, he has been deemed the ideal sponsor. His involvement indeed characterizes his teaching career, yet to a greater extent his caring for people characterizes his life.

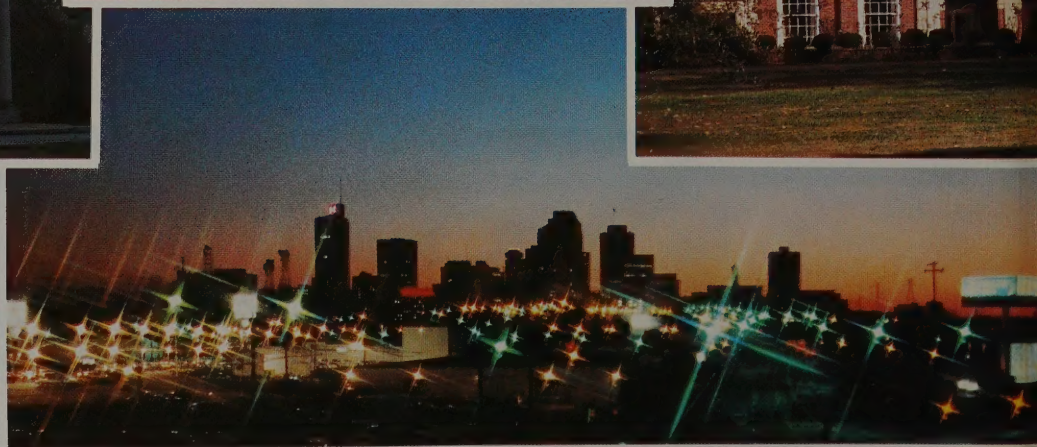

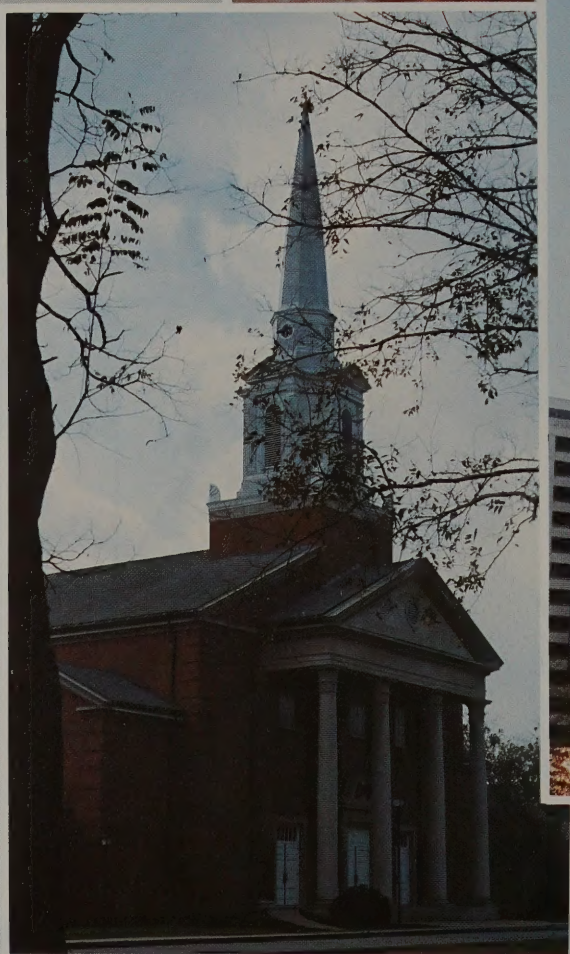

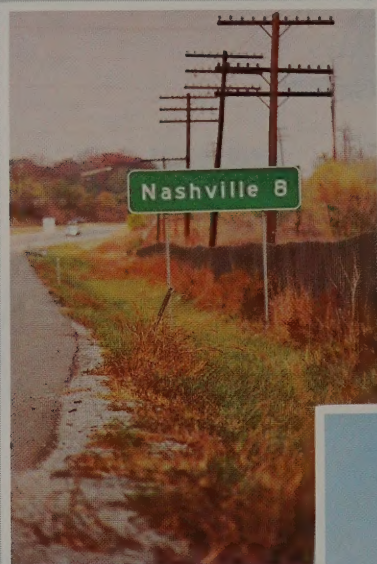

Because his personality penetrates our problems, enabling us to progress, we proudly dedicate this 1982 BACKLOG to Patrick "Doc" Deese, our respected teacher and friend.

AMERICAN TRADITIONS

SINGARAMA '81

Home

Work

A tradition all its own, Singarama 1981 exploded in a pageantry of Great American Traditions to culminate the spring season's main event. The production brought together a variety of novice student performers to portray the American way of life as it revolves around our home, work, recreation and school. In its eighteenth annual year, this theme ran deep with nostalgia, for these traditions depict the hub of campus life reminisced by both students and alumni. These embracing customs of home, work, recreation, and school sprang to life in Singarama's characteristic showmanship.

This Singarama witnessed the birth of yet a new tradition. A distinctive precedent emerged when the evening's host and hostess were selected from among the student body. It was a fitting decision, for outside talent would surely have not matched the dynamite residing in Sheryl Harless and Kevin Arvin. Their diverse musical craftsmanship and striking professionalism sparkled with the essence of entertainment. They provided the magical link to tie the pieces together and present a packaged extravaganza.

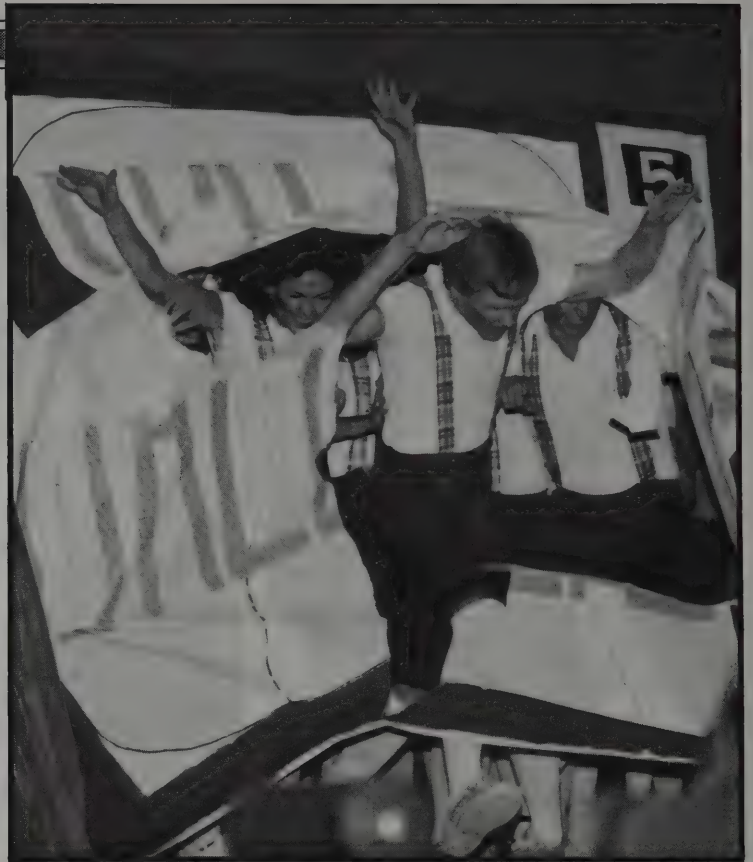

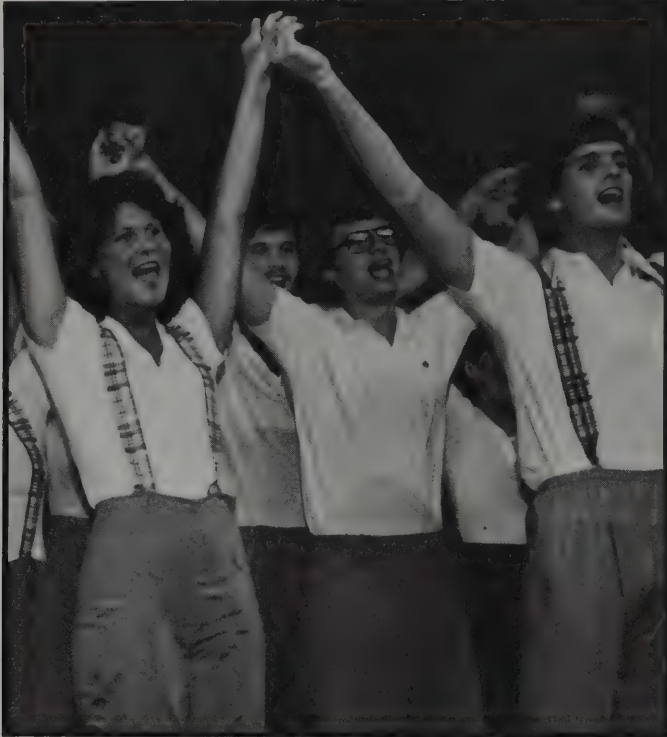

The Henderson Family Reunion provided a timeless setting to portray "Home" in Mike Perry's rendition of "We Are Family". The audience journeyed via flashback to see the Hendersons experience the pre-Civil War South, the meager Depression days, and the groovy Viet Nam era to endure as a family united. Taking first place in the Music Category, these strong voices belonged to Gamma Lambda, Kappa Phi, Omega Nu, Psi Alpha, Sigma Iota Delta, and Theta Tau.

A rehearsal studio in New York proved to be the suitable location for "Workin'" as they were awarded first place in staging and costume. Kerry Anderson represented "Work" with its competitive edge and rewarding efforts by presenting a show within a show. The frenzied director and his vivacious secretary led cast Alpha Sigma, Alpha Tau, Delta Chi, Kappa Chi, Omega Chi, and Pi Delta through their whirlwind rehearsal.

Recreation

Quite representative of its first place for creative development, "Fun Trek" seized the younger audience with space visitors X, Y, and Zoot from the planet Fretonia on a frantic mission to find fun. "Recreation" as directed by Steve Kirby covered the full gambit of American past-times in an entertainment-packed weekend. Delta Nu, Delta Sigma, Gamma Xi, Sigma Phi, and Zeta Nu decided that everyone goes together when discovering the avenues of American recreation.

A flood of emotions and memories swept through "The Old Schoolyard" as Joey Watson's "School" captured the judges' votes to become the Sweepstakes Winner. An older English teacher was coaxed out of retirement by the seniors' expression of sentiment when they dedicated their annual in her honor. Delta Delta, Lambda Psi, Phi Omega, Sigma Chi Delta, and Tau Phi recreated the nostalgia of alma mater and graduation as they remembered school.

School

RONNIE MILSAP

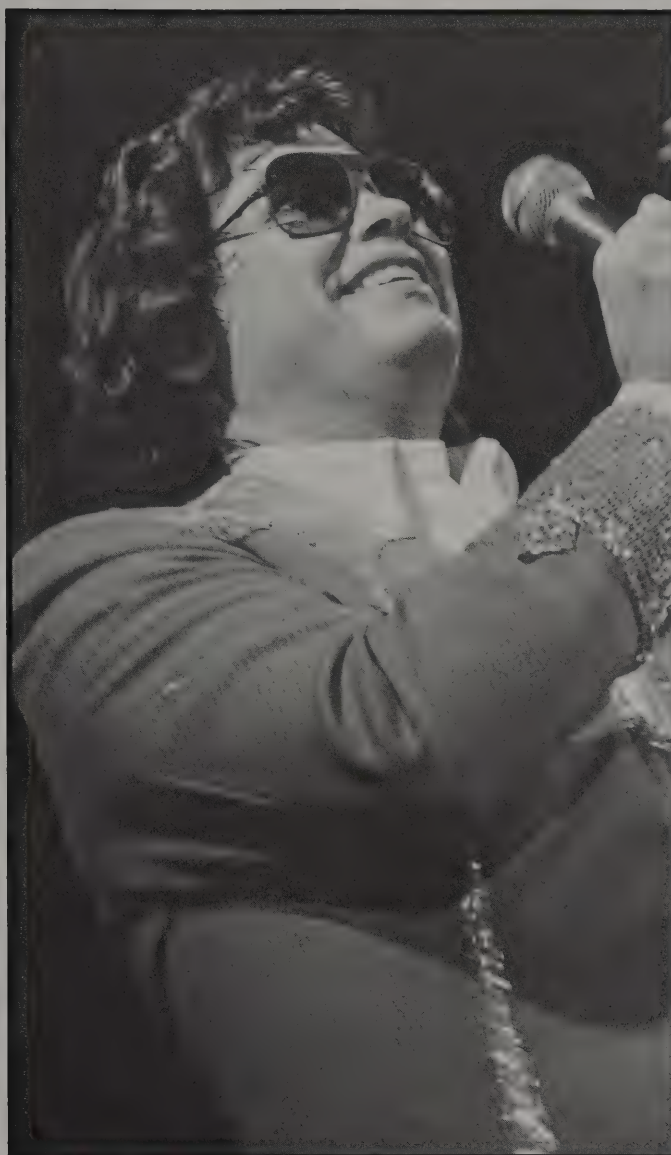

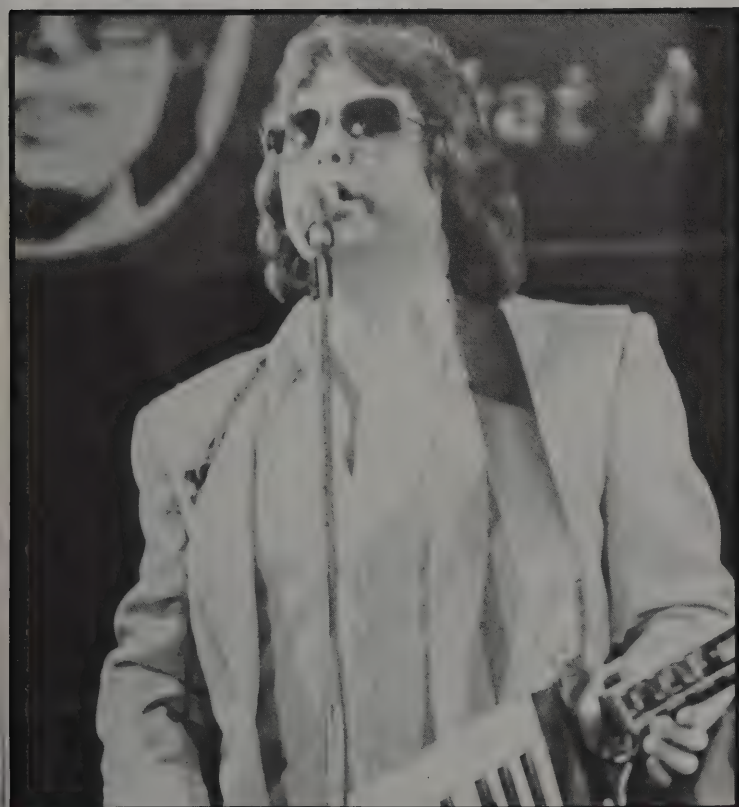

The cheering crowds and resounding chords drifted over the campus on Friday, September 25. Inside McQuiddy Gymnasium, the excitement and the sound were overwhelming as Ronnie Milsap appeared in concert to benefit David Lipscomb High School's Athletic Complex.

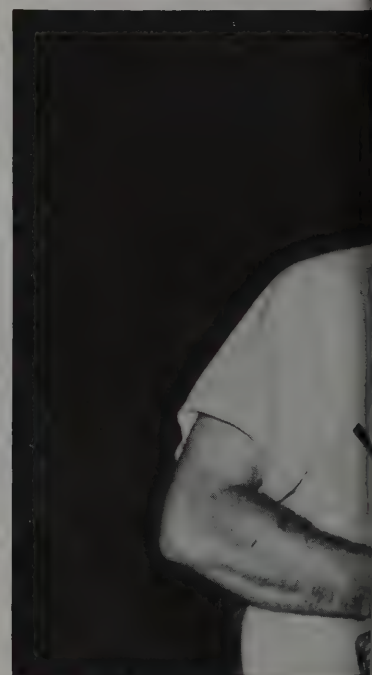

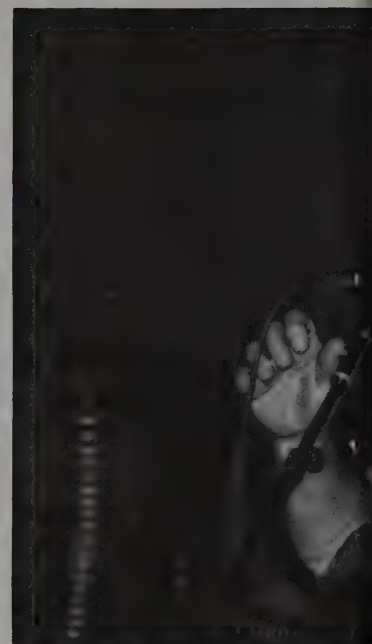

Despite 102° fever and a faltering voice, the 1978 Entertainer of the Year performed a nonstop progression of country hits ranging from country to rock and roll. He opened with a powerful "What a Difference You've Made In My Life" then breaking into his country chart toppers. His million seller "It was Almost Like a Song" highlighted the evening. He proceeded to rouse a surprised audience by moving to Eagles "Life in the Fast Lane" and "Fire" recorded by the Pointer Sisters and escalating with his Rhythm and Blues rock and roll hit "Get It Up."

His energy thoroughly expended, Milsap could not perform the 9:00 show and graciously offered a free return engagement for the following Tuesday night.

In a weekend of special fortune, Lipscomb audiences were treated by a man to whom blindness is no handicap, a performer who is as highly polished as he is warm and outgoing.

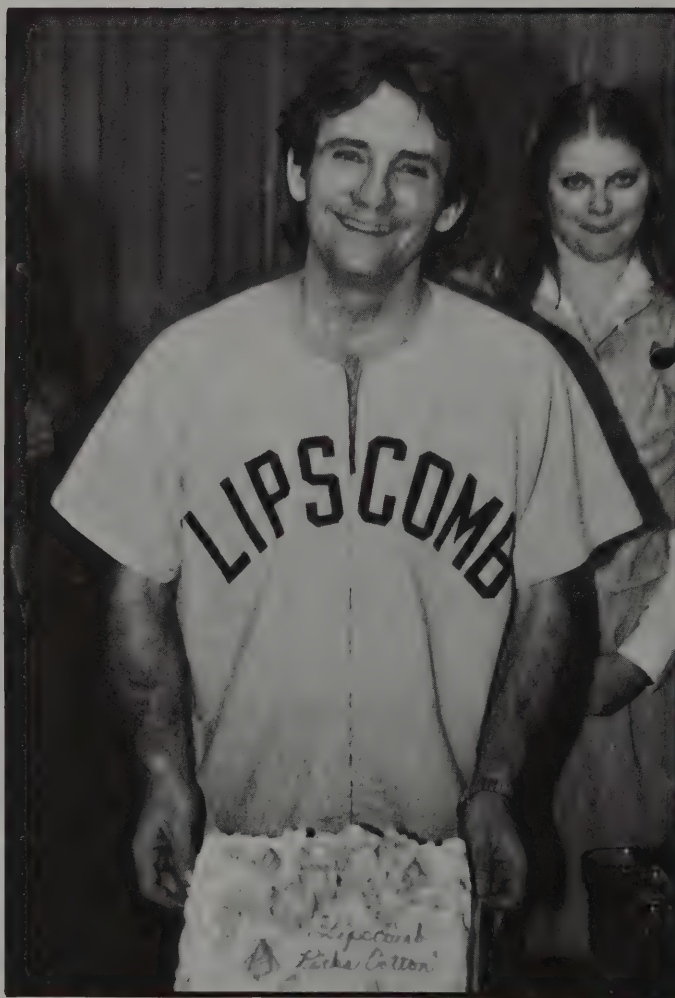

gene cotton

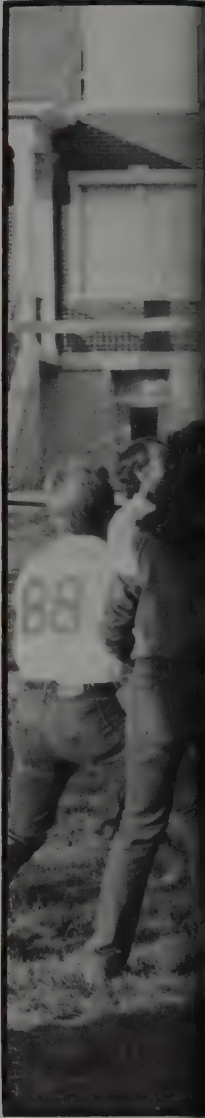

Gene Cotton — a name of instant recognition and a musician widely sought after — returned to the Lipscomb campus on Tuesday night, November 24, 1981.

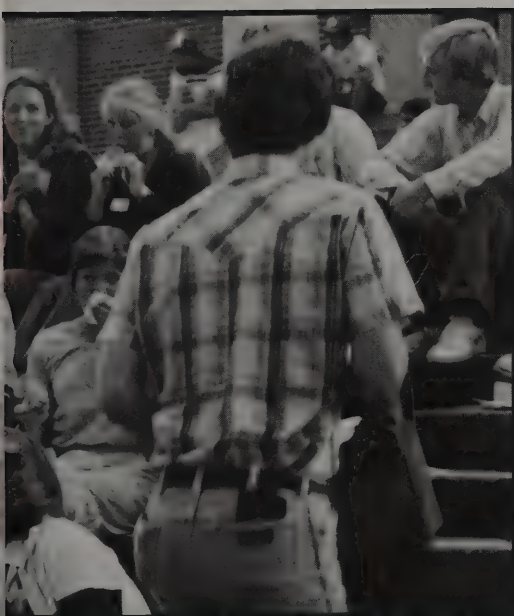

In his typically personable manner, Cotton spent the day making a guest appearance in chapel, meeting students afterwards in the student center, and participating in the campus radio contests. That evening Cotton sported a Bison baseball jersey in yet another warm gesture toward his audience.

On stage, he was foremost the entertainer, performing songs ranging from rock and roll renditions such as the Beatles' "All the Lonely People" to the tender love songs like "You're a Part of Me." Endearing him to the audience was the delightful conversation about his children and his moving ballad about Jesus of Nazareth, which his son taught him to play on the piano. In addition to providing entertainment, these lyrics reflected Cotton's ideas concerning politics, relationships, and human nature as well mirroring an intelligent, observant, sensitive man, taking life at its fullest. And like the message of his new title song "Eclipse of the Blue Moon," Cotton left optimistic impressions for a brilliant future as audience and entertainer together sang "You've Got to Shine On Your Light."

The new school year . . . a time of renewal . . . resuming familiar friendships . . . reviving campus activities — the gathering for “picnics on the grounds” . . . restoring time-worn customs — the slogans and signs of elections . . . rediscovery . . . a time of adventure . . . anticipating new faces, new events, new growth . . . the new school year.

BISON DAY

BISON MANIA found itself in living rooms across the Nashville area when it was featured on the November 10 evening news. The event was Bison Day a day-long pep rally celebrating the 1st Bison basketball game. It promoted quite a bazaar panorama to see the bobbing masses erupt into high-spirited cheering as Bison Day received its official proclamation by Willard Collins, who promptly received paraphernalia from each club in the form of sink plunges and layers of hats.

Tau Phi paratroopers provided the after-chapel exclusive when they sent Collins sky-high in a hot air balloon raising their "Bomb 'em Bisons" banner. Their extravagance placed 2nd while Sigma Chi Delta took the prize in the men's division storming McQuiddy gym as tarred and feathered chickens with Colonel in hot pursuits. "Plunge to Victory" was the key phrase in the women's competition as Psi Alpha "Tidy Bowl" men flushed the first-place category. Pi Delta's dynamite blasted into second place to culminate the day's frenzied activities. The Bison basketball season openers resulted in double victories to provide the crowning touch.

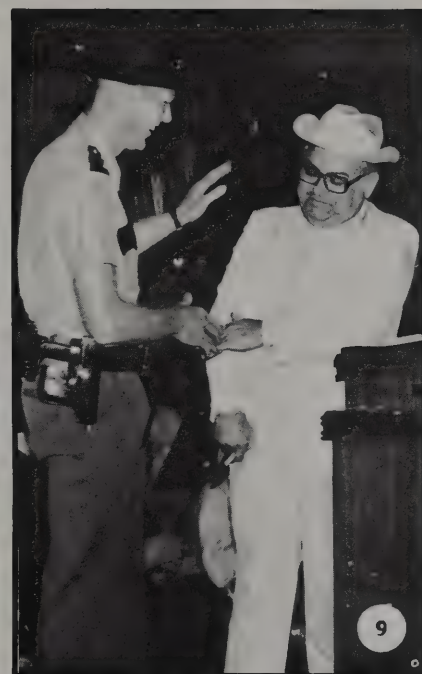

1. Lady Bison's fans wave gold ribbons to show their spirit. 2. Delta Sigma encourages the Bisons to march over the crusaders. 3. Omega Nu are "Raiders of the Lost Bison." 4. Senior Alan Banks works the ball into shooting position. 5. President Collins, Vice-President McKelvey, and Eddie Smith watch the pandemonium taking place in McQuiddy. 6. "Bisons are out of this world" is the theme of Theta Tau. 7. Suzy Head "Sher-wood like to see a Bison victory." 8. Sigma Phi and President Collins say "Stick it to 'em, Bisons." 9. "Bag 'em Bisons" is the theme of Delta Nu.

BISON DAY

1. The 1981-82 Bison cheerleaders introduce themselves to the crowd. 2. Gamma Lambda thinks the Bisons are "the berry best." 3. Gamma Zi "pictures a victory for the Bisons." 4. Tau Phi pledges strive to demonstrate their theme, "Bomb 'em Bisons. Up — Up and Away." 5. Pi Delta as fire-crackers says "Blast 'em Bisons." 6. "Bisons can't lose their on a mission from Meyers," according to Alpha Tau. 7. Phi Omega asserts the "Bisons are Ever Ready." 8. Psi Alpha won first place with the theme "plunge to victory." 9. Roscoe (Coach Meyer) and Boss Hogg (Dean Loyd) provide a laugh for Bison Day Chapel-goers. 10. "We do winning right!" says Sigma Chi Delta, winners in the men's competition.

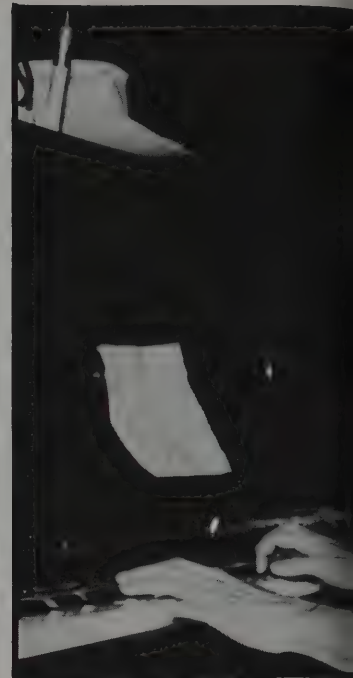

COWBOY SHOW

Lipscomb went western on Friday, January 15 when a group of "Good ole' boys" transformed Alumni Auditorium into another Grand Ole Opry complete with foot stomping, toe tapping, and hand clapping.

The third annual Tau Phi Cowboys and Friends Show drew a big crowd and captivated their fans with a line-up of true instrumental and vocal talent. Banjo pickin' by Wade Denny and David Sweeney along with Karen Mauney's fiddle playin' were some special features which heightened the country flavor.

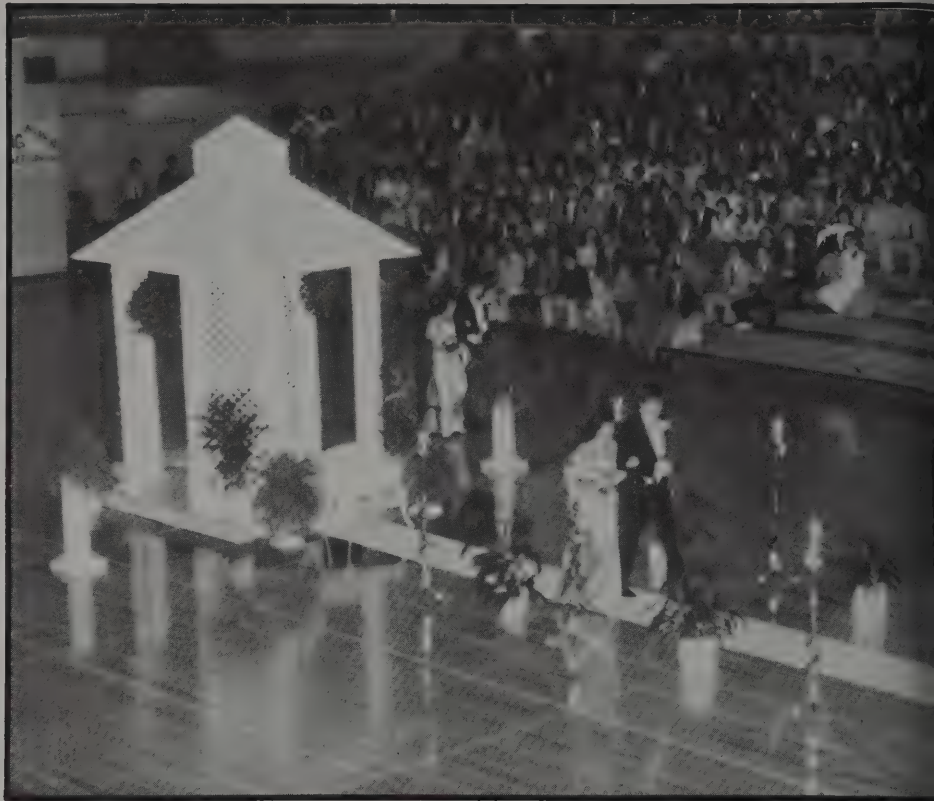

It was also a night of blazing personalities patterned after the unique country music business. Master of Ceremonies Jacky "Jack" White held a pocketful of jokes and anecdotes that coincidentally introduced each guest while Jacky offered each performer his vote for "country music's "Entertainer of the Year."

Nick Western and the Spurs dropped in for an enchanting appearance, breaking from their running engagement at the Bait and Tackle Shop.

HOMECOMING

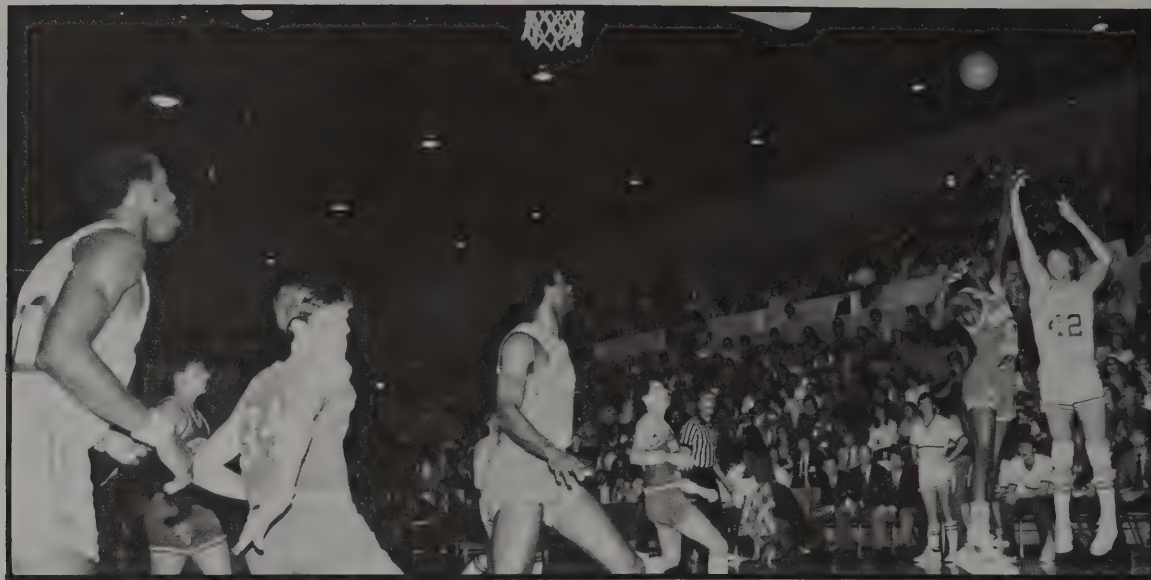

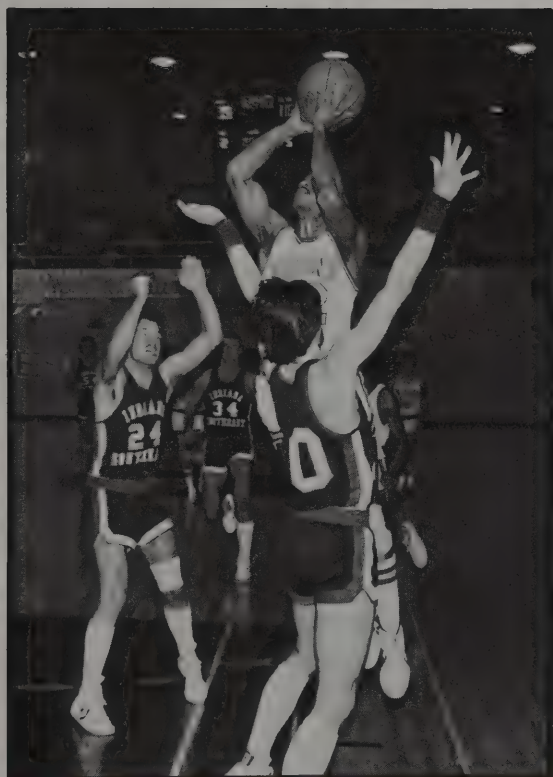

The central theme of Homecoming 1982 was "A Past to Honor — A Future to Mold." Many new activities revolved around this February weekend. New ways to get students more involved were brought to reality under the supervision of Miss Lisa Holland, special projects coordinator at Lipscomb. The events began on Friday with a special chapel service and then a luncheon for the queen and her court and the basketball teams. Friday night the students enjoyed a bonfire on Maplehurst, followed by a campus-wide devotional with hot chocolate served afterwards.

Light snow fell on Saturday, but the cool weather was soon forgotten as warm smiles of many visitors filled the campus. Michael Sloan, a renowned artist, donated an original painting of a Bison with the proceeds from its 3,000 prints going to the school. After the unveiling of the painting, musical performances were given by Chorale and A Capella. Departmental teas were given by the department chairmen to renew old acquaintances. The highlight of the whole weekend lay in store for the numerous guests. The homecoming set featured a large gazebo in the center of the gym surrounded by much greenery. The band played various selections as class representatives and representatives-at-large walked around the perimeter of the court through a candlelit path. As Queen Janice Quinn entered through a latticework arch, the crowd responded enthusiastically with a standing ovation. After the coronation the basketball team topped off the day with a victory over Indiana University. The dramatic production, "West Side Story," entertained the guests as the homecoming weekend came to a close. Homecoming '82 brought back many fond memories and let people know Lipscomb would continue to be an outstanding college for years to come.

Through the silence and dead of winter it came. The Night — February 26. The Event — Delta Nu and Delta Sigma led their audience backward to those grease happy, bobby-socked days of shoo-bop and sh-boom.

Under the direction of Kevin Chunn and Jimmy Heaberlin, the show was a treat of those fans who actually experienced the decade as well as for those who remember it only through song. Backdropped by a giant-sized juke box designed by David Cochran and Ned Herred, the music selections featured the fun bebop songs of the late 50's and early 60's. The tradition will continue as one of the most anticipated productions of the year — a night of pony tails and duck tails — when leather is king and everyone is sweet sixteen — once again.

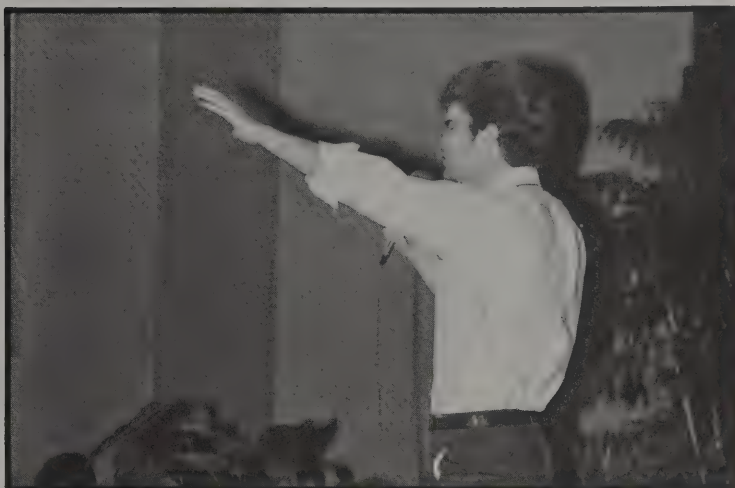

TALENT SHOW

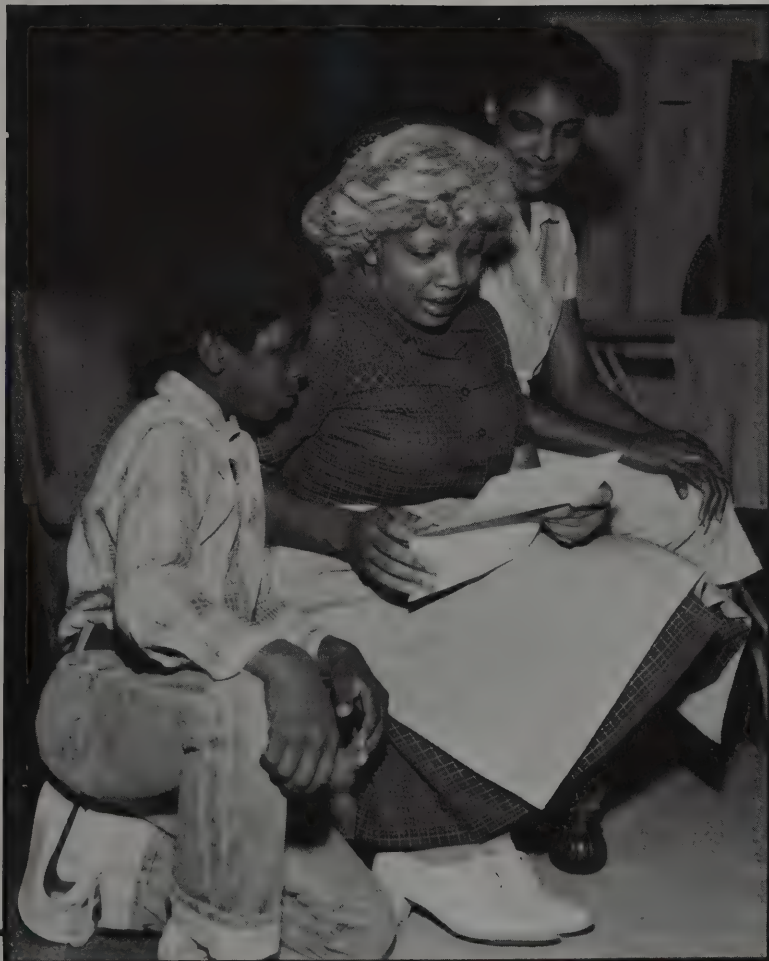

Phi Mu Alpha presented its second annual Talent Show on Friday, February 19, 1982, in Alumni Auditorium with host Mr. Stan Gunselman. There were fifteen acts representing a wide variety of student talent. First prize went to Mary Jones for her dramatic recitation. Sherilyn Harless received second prize, and the Sweethearts of Harmony, Wendy Wilson, Beth Raines, Melissa Grimes, and Anne Byrd, won third prize.

"The Good Doctor", an adaptation of plays by the Russian playwright Anton Chekhov, was presented to capacity crowds November 5, 6, and 7 and received enthusiastic audience appeal. Neil Simon's adaptation of "vignettes" centered around a fictional playwright called the doctor as portrayed by Jeff Durham. The audience became the silent observer of his creative processes, and they were allowed to see how his stories developed and grew out of his imagination.

The setting was in Russia at the turn of the century. Chekhov envisioned a series of everyday situations and presented them with humor and a light-hearted touch. These situations made strong statements about marriage, happiness, and prejudice especially relative to Russian life after the Revolution.

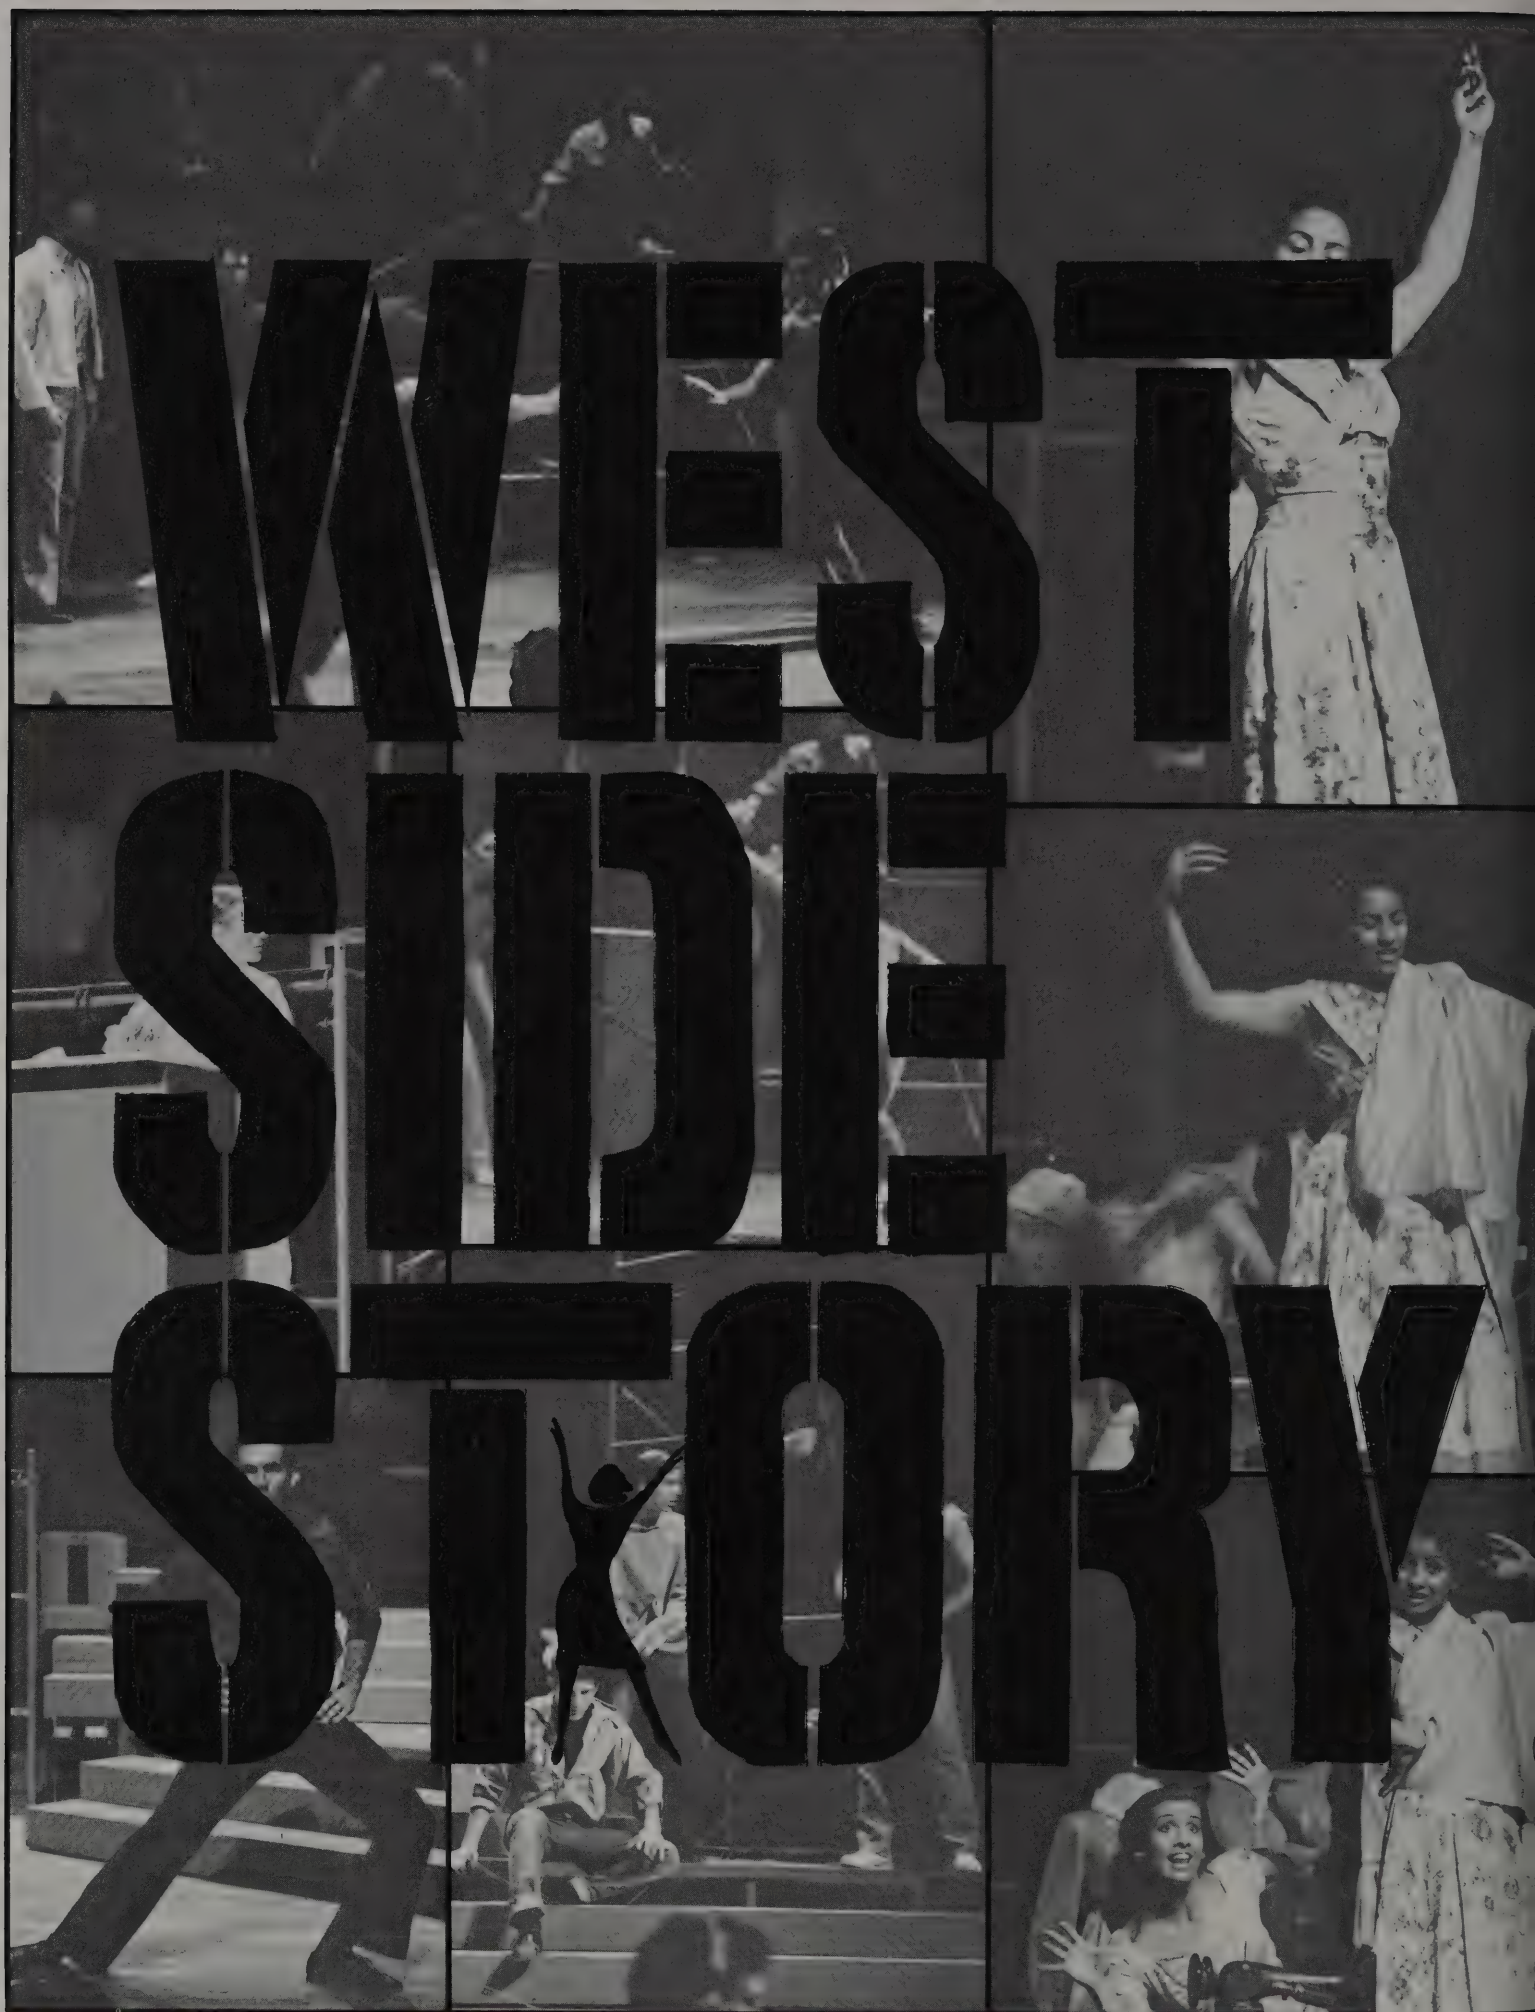

Poignantly performed with great finesse by both newcomers and veterans alike, this unique play provided first class entertainment to climax the fall season.

Alumni Auditorium came alive to the musical production of West Side Story as Homecoming 1982 approached and the cast prepared for three nights of performances February 4, 5, 6. The musical about families of New York's West Side was performed under the direction of Henry Arnold of Lipscomb's Speech Communication Department.

"Tonight, Tonight" and "One Heart" emerged from a rich musical collection and was well accompanied by the superior sound of the West Side Story Orchestra directed by Dr. Gerald Moore.

Regina Santos made her debut as the lovely Maria. Also making his first appearance to the Lipscomb stage was David Gant, who portrayed Tony.

What is a Pied Piper? A Pied Piper is a college student who likes kids. A Pied Piper is a college student who likes to bring happiness to kids by singing songs and telling stories. The Pied Pipers of Company Four at DLC have had a busy year with performances at elementary schools in the Nashville area and performances at private parties.

A CAPPELLA

Lipscomb A Cappella Singers

The 1981-82 school year has been called "the year of A Cappella." Many honors and distinctions have come to the organization in recognition of its standards of excellence in performance. The year began with a performance for the Tennessee Petroleum Distributors Association. Performances then followed in Kentucky and Tennessee. A Cappella participated in the Christian College Choral Festival in Oklahoma City, and in the Tennessee Collegiate Choral Festival. During spring tour performances were presented in North Carolina; Virginia, and West Virginia.

During the Spring quarter the A Cappella sang for the Governor's Prayer Breakfast and the World's Fair in Knoxville. The year was climaxed with an invitation to participate in the 1982 St. Mortiz Music Festival in Switzerland, performing Beethoven under the direction of the famed conductor, Robert Shaw. The festival chorus sang in music festivals in Dijon, France; Vaduz, Liechtenstein; in Modena, Reggio Emilia, and Turino, Italy. They also toured Germany and other cities of Italy and France.

Dr. James L. Jackson, Chairman of the Department of Music, directs the A Cappella Singers. The 1981-82 officers were: Jeff Rice, President; Dale Denny, Vice-President; Emily Lester, Secretary; Bill Carney, Treasurer; and Charism Moore, Historian.

The 1981-82 David Lipscomb College Chorale has proved to be an outstanding musical group. The high tradition of excellence on which Choral was founded still exists. The year began with the annual fall retreat. During this fun-filled weekend the new members saw exactly what was in store for them.

The Chorale represented Lipscomb at the Christian College Choral Festival and the Tennessee Collegiate Choral Festival. The group also participated in the World's Fair at Knoxville during the spring quarter.

Two quarters of practice, practice, and more practice culminated in the annual spring tour. This year's tour, the longest any group has taken in Lipscomb's history, took the group West for eleven days. The purpose of the spring tour, as always, is to give people a glimpse of what David Lipscomb College is all about.

However, Chorale has always had a dual purpose for its very unique existence. One is characteristic of any singing group learning and performing music. The other purpose is what gives Chorale that extra "something" — closeness. While any group can accomplish musical excellence with much practice, few can become as close-knit as Chorale. There is a common love for each member that exists long after the year is over.

Mr. Larry Griffith directs the Lipscomb Chorale. The officers this year were: Kell Holland, president; Lauren Dickinson, secretary; Keith Hardy, vice-president; Dawn Wright, treasurer; Pam Connelly and Cathy Nichols, co-historians; Robin Stafford, librarian.

JAZZ BAND

Under the direction of Dr. Gerald Moore, the concert band upheld its reputation for excellence. It enhanced campus life in a variety of capacities.

The band drummed lots of spirit at home basketball games. They also provided entertainment at a concert performed in the fall and added special class to the Homecoming festivities. Elevating the quality of performance, many members of the band played in the musical productions on campus such as West Side Story and Singarama.

Jazz Band, composed of about eighteen members, brought a unique sound to its concerts. It was featured in Singarama 1981 and the Faculty Talent Show along with other performances throughout the year, and the audiences loved their jazz intonations.

In its second year, the Jazz Vocal Ensemble enjoyed the same rousing success of its previous year while increasing its number of members to twenty-five. Their repertoire consisted of jazz, pop, rock, with its primary emphasis on jazz. Enthusiastically received in an after chapel Christmas program, they performed a series of upbeat seasonal favorites. The group, led by Dr. Marion Cawood, was also a hit at other appearances during the year.

Chamber Singers, as the name implies, devoted its time to mastering chamber music for unaccompanied voice. Seasoned by training with Dr. Jackson's A Cappella Singers, members of the group mastered songs from the Baroque and Classical periods, with emphasis on madrigal songs. In order to raise funds for a European tour, the singers held a Madrigal Christmas Dinner, serving a traditional yuletide meal accompanied by madrigal music from the waitresses and waiters. Other classical chamber music programs were planned as well as some contemporary music shows.

WINDSONG

The first contact many high school students have with Lipscomb is through Windsong, the group of musical ambassadors sponsored by the Admissions Department.

This elite group was chosen throughout the preceeding year and represented Lipscomb's finest talent. They served as a valuable recruiting tool, introducing Lipscomb to 10,000 young people in twelve to fifteen states. Traveling a total of about 20,000 miles, they performed one to two shows almost every weekend. About fifty shows were presented with a sound that widely varied from pop all the way to country. This year's selection revolved around the more upbeat "Top 40" numbers and captivated their audiences of public and Christian high schools throughout the Southeast.

The five Lipscomb students who formed Windsong were of the highest character and exhibited consistent dedication. Between road shows and rehearsals every week, the only time left for studying is while traveling in the van. Drummer Kip Raines from Whites Creek, Tennessee, confirmed the difficulty when he stated "The hardest thing for me is studying on the road. But the rewards far outweigh any disadvantages because I love to talk with young people, and playing in a band opens those doors." The high school students were attracted to a group of Christian musicians that thoroughly enjoyed their work and each other.

The other four performers provided the vocals for the songs. Monty Powell, Marty Roe, and Kevin Thomas were also on the guitars, playing lead, bass, and rhythm guitars respectively. Julie Hopkins, a music major from Florida, performed with the piano in addition to singing. Their popularity was due to their witty showmanship as well as producing a quality musical sound.

Windsong enjoyed a six-day tour to Christian high schools in Georgia and Florida the week prior to fall quarter. They also played at a youth rally October 24 to an audience of 2,000 young people.

Their own student body had the privilege of hearing Windsong several times throughout the year, an honor only too infrequent for the people they are devoted to representing.

LOUISE MANDRELL

Associates of David Lipscomb College hit a bonanza on April 9 with one of the most attractive and talented stars in the country music business. Louise Mandrell was the featured artist in a concert benefiting the Reese L. Smith Athletic Complex in the McQuiddy Gymnasium.

Mandrell's husband, R.C. Bannon, and Leroy "The Auctioneer" Van Dyke also appeared in the concert which proceeds went toward the new football stadium.

As a member of the immensely talented musical family, The Mandrells, Louise brought to the Lipscomb stage a warm sense of confidence and years of professional background as a singer, instrumentalist and entertainer. The show provided a format for spotlighting Miss Mandrell and R.C. alone while emphasizing their talents as a duet team.

Van Dyke, termed by Newsweek as "the hottest act on the Country circuit," combined the old-style sound with contemporary numbers.

Musically, the show was as diverse as its stars were polished, ranging from up-tempo songs to ballads.

Louise entertained with an ingredient of old-fashioned hospitality added to her vivacious performance, believing that an audience should leave enjoying the singing, the music, but especially the time together. The Lipscomb audience left that Friday night with an appreciation for the benefit, the performance, and the gracious people that entertained them.

SPORTS

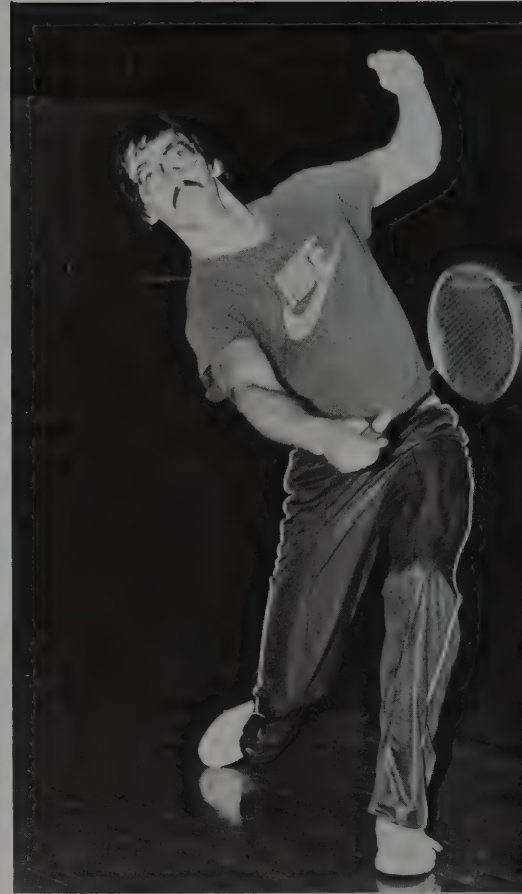

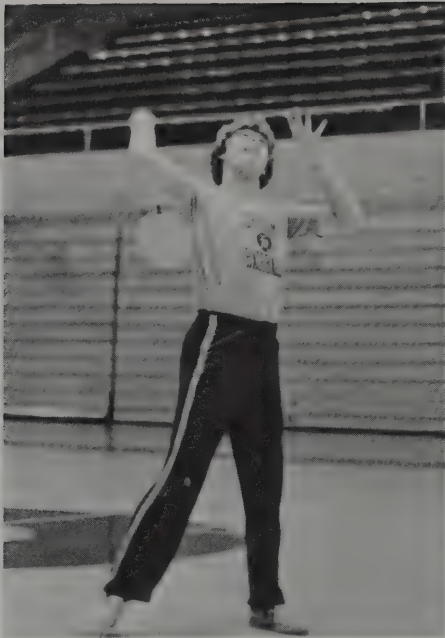

INTRAMURALS

For those aspiring young athletes who could not quite make the cut on varsity team, intramural athletics provided the all important opportunity of participation in sports.

Social club as well as independent teams participated in fall, winter and spring athletics. A point system was kept to determine the overall intramural champion at year end. Fall sports included football for men, and powder puff football and volleyball for women. Basketball competition promised to be an exciting winter intramural.

The David Lipscomb College Badminton Team remained an extramural activity coached by Duane Slaughter. They once again had an exciting season participating in several tournaments and matches.

TRACK

The 1982 Track Team anticipated qualifying seven runners to run in the Indoor Track and Field Nationals. Both Jim Busby and Flip Jones were legitimate contenders for All-American honors, both in Indoor and Outdoor Track and Field Nationals. The team expected to send seven or eight individuals to the Outdoor Nationals in Charleston, West Virginia.

Coach Rodney Smith felt that although the team was young, it had a great potential for the future. Three-fourths of the 1982 team consisted of freshmen with a large amount of talent.

With the construction of the new track at Maplehurst, the team was looking forward to hosting the first track meet ever at David Lipscomb College.

CROSS COUNTRY

Coach Rodney Smith

With only two returning team members, Max Russell and Phil Racht, first year cross country coach Rodney Smith hoped that the experience his new team members gained this year would provide a good basis for next season.

Lipscomb finished third out of four teams in the DLC Invitational with Belmont capturing the team title. Max Russell paced the Bisons with a third place finish and Kevin Collins finished fifth for the Bisons.

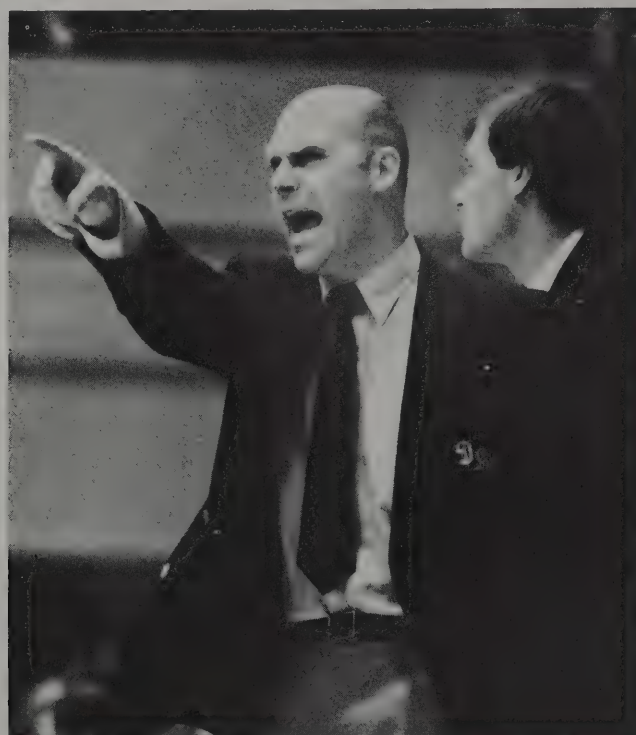

Lipscomb finished eighth of eleven teams in the Vanderbilt Commodore Invitational. Auburn won the team competition at the meet and Russell placed first among Lipscomb runners with a 19th spot.

Max Russell placed second and came within seconds of breaking the school record at the Fisk University meet, where Lipscomb finished fourth out of six teams.

Lipscomb placed third in the district held in November.

Best Season Ever For Bisons

The Bisons enjoyed their best season in history, led by seniors Alan Banks, Ernest Brown, Jim Feher and Willis Smith.

The powerful defensive Bisons broke several school records, including most consecutive games won (13) and most games won in a season (32).

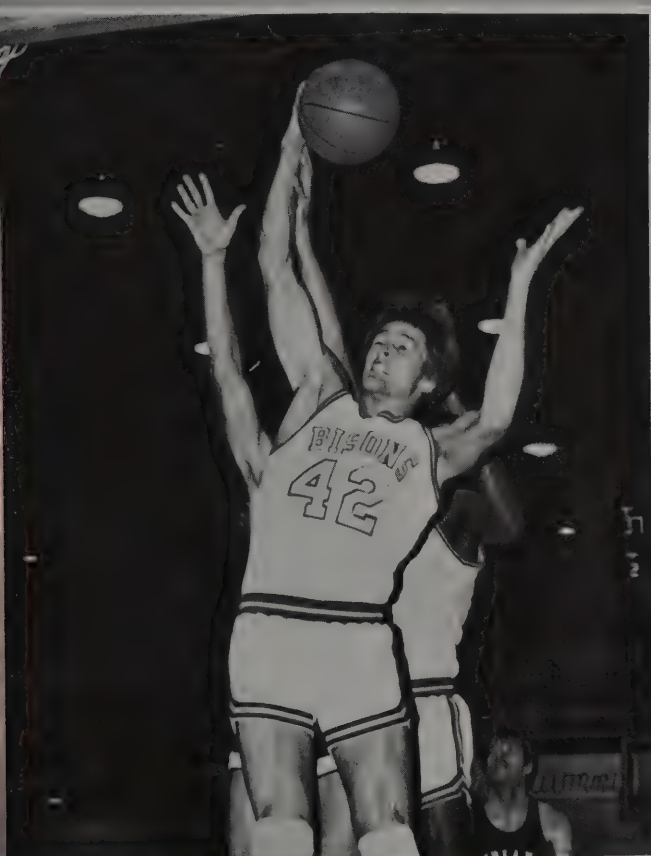

Surprising many of their followers by making it to the finals of the NAIA District 24 tournament last season, but losing the championship game to Lincoln-Memorial 72-77, the Bisons, with all but two of last year's squad returning, came on strong from the start. At the close of regular season play the Bisons had only three losses against 28 wins.

Ranking as high as third in the NAIA National Poll during the regular season, the Bisons also led the VSAC throughout the season, and were seeded number one going into the playoffs, but lost to Bethel in the second game of the tournament. The District 24 playoffs proved more fruitful for the Bisons as they defeated Bethel for the Western Division Championship and Carson-Newman for the overall championship sending them to the National Championship in Kansas City for the first time ever.

The Bisons were defeated in the first round by Kearney State of Arizona as an excellent season came to an end.

MEN'S BASKETBALL

Banks Becomes All-Time Leading Scorer

The score book reads Lipscomb 95, Lambuth 69. The record book reads Alan Banks, 1,881.

While the Bisons were busy slamming visiting Lambuth in an opening-round game of the VSAC Western Division playoffs, Alan Banks was quietly chalking up sixteen points and a place in the record books of Lipscomb, becoming Lipscomb's all-time leading scorer when he put in his 1,881st career point on an over the shoulder layup with 12:25 remaining on the clock, breaking the record of 1,880 set by Steve Flatt, a 1977 graduate.

As the ball circled the rim finally dropping through the net, most of the crowd rose in a standing ovation for Banks. Coach Meyer then allowed Banks to exit the game, as the crowd continued to cheer, to watch the remaining minutes of the game from the bench after his record breaking basket.

Ten energetic young ladies led by Betsy Ruhl and sponsored by Deborah Coggin composed the 1981-82 cheerleading squad. This spirited team was an exceptional group — maintaining poise, big smiles, and enthusiasm through 7:00 a.m. practices, night practices, and long basketball games. They used ingenuity in their search for creative and impressive routines or stunts. The finishing touches were added at their annual cheer-a-thon slumber party where they perfected the precision that kept fans and players alike infected with that Bison spirit.

The Lady Bisons opened the 1981-82 season with an impressive Bison Day victory over Tennessee Temple. Coach Frank Bennett and Assistant Coach Trish Duty led the team to an exciting season. The first half of the season was filled with ups and downs as the team lost four tough Division I games. A highlight of the first half of the season was a 91-75 victory over defending District 24 champion Carson-Newman, as Carson-Newman was ranked nationally in the top 10 shortly after that game. As the second half of the season rolled around the team had a good start with three consecutive wins.

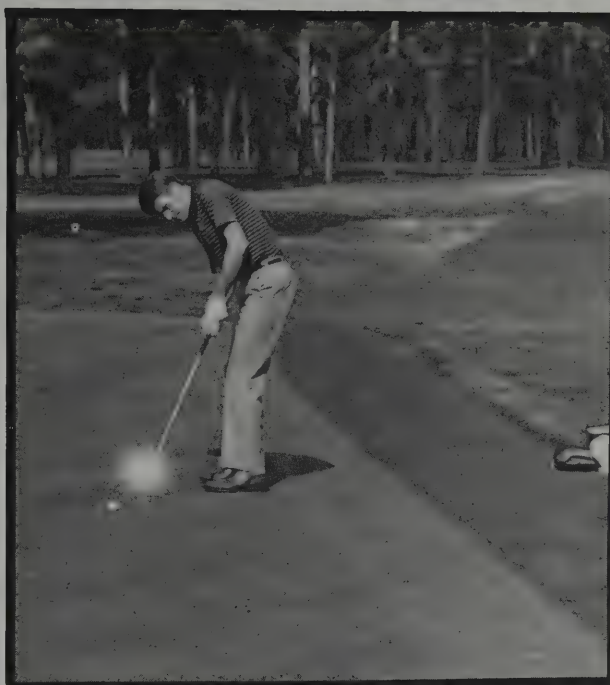

The Lady Bisons' strength stemmed from the depth of the team, the team attitude of the players, and a hustling man to man defense. Rhonda Stewart (13.0), Regina Atnip (13.0), and Jan Arant (11.0) led the team in scoring with Atnip and Stewart also leading the team in rebounds. Jan Arant held career records for most assists and most steals and had the chance to become the leading scorer before the end of the season.

GOLF |

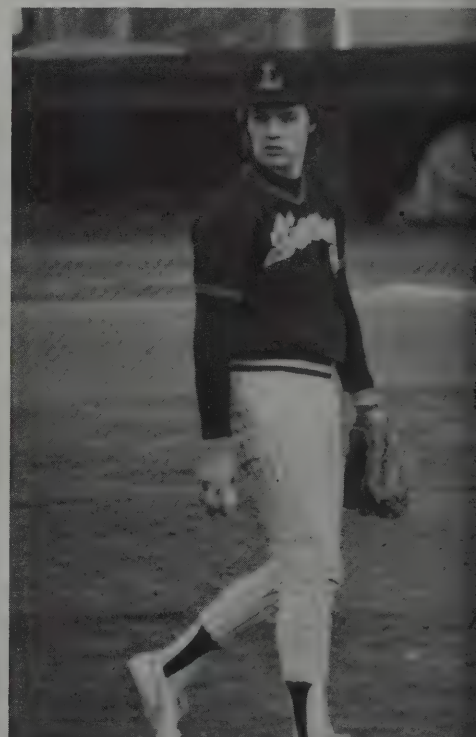

The Bison Golf team coached by Ralph Samples came from an excellent 1981 season looking forward to another very good season.

Two seniors, including Captain Scott Holder and transfer Grady Burrus, were expected to lead the team to several tournaments and eight matches this season.

BASEBALL

The 1981 Bison Baseball team once again had an outstanding season. Led by Coach Ken Dugan and Assistant Coach Al Austelle, the Bisons set a state record with a 51-8 record last spring, winning the most games for a college baseball team in Tennessee.

The Bisons were the VSAC champions, the NAIA District 24 championship, but were defeated in the Area 5 championship by John Brown University. By virtue of their ranking of second in national polls they became the at-large team in the World Series in Lubbock, Texas. This made the fifth consecutive year the Bisons had played in the World Series.

The Bisons lost five seniors to graduation, with three signing with professional teams. Mel Williams, who was named to an All-American Team, signed with the Philadelphia Phillies, Steve Liddle with the California Angels, and Kal Koenig with the Seattle Mariners.

In the 1982 pre-season polls the Bisons were ranked third in the NAIA poll, looking forward to their spring training trip to Ormond Beach, Florida.

MEN'S TENNIS

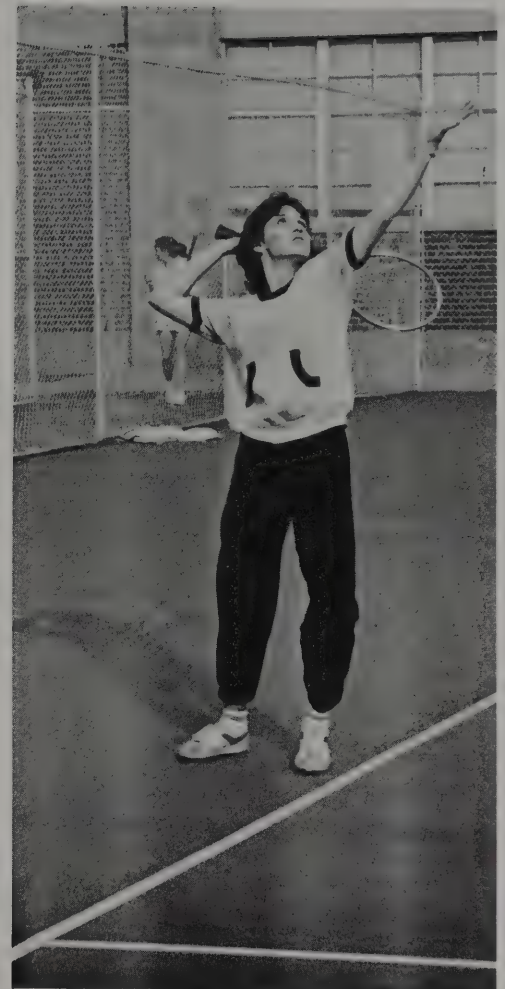

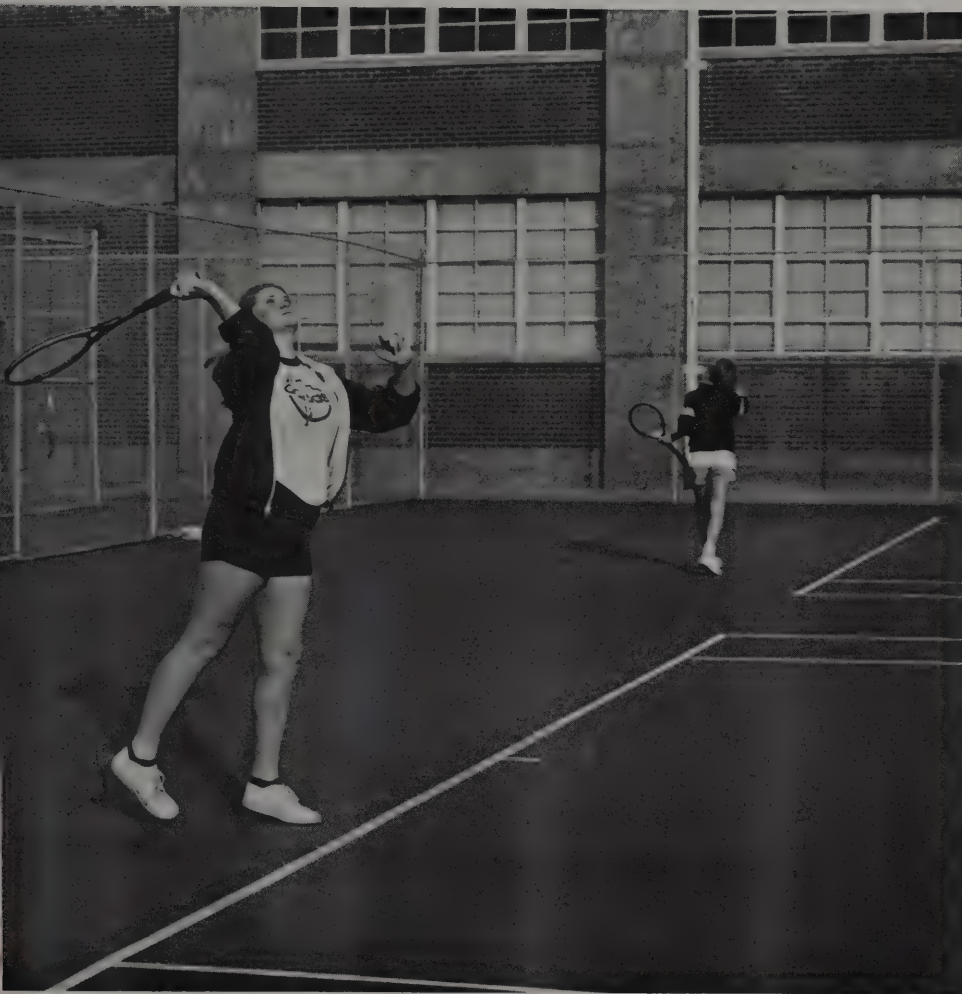

Coached by Lynn Griffith and led by the team captains Steve Riley and Bobby Weatherly, the men's tennis team was looking forward to a successful season with their goal as winning the VSAC Western Division. They planned to host the Tennessee Intercollegiate Conference Tournament at Lipscomb on April 16 and 17. The Bison tennis team also anticipated an exciting spring trip to Florida.

WOMEN'S TENNIS

The Lady Bison Tennis team was looking forward to a year of rebuilding, with several steady performers.

The lower seed players were expected to play very well, while the higher seeds knew they had some stiff competition ahead. With the first match coming March 27 the team looked forward to a successful season.

The Backlog Revives Memories

The Backlog of 1982 will revive memories of the first year of Lipscomb's Golden Decade for two or more generations.

Memory is a great gift from God and I am thankful for its power to relive the days of yesterday.

During the years to come, administrators, faculty, staff and students who were here in the school year 1981-82 will relive days in the labs and classrooms, Bison Day, graduation days, chapel, devotionals and the campus life they enjoyed during the first year of Lipscomb's Golden Decade.

The Backlog of 1982 will become more valuable to many as the years go by.

I am thankful that this book has captured campus life during this eventful period. I am grateful that it portrays a great academic education in the Christian environment and that it shows how Christian students can be "Busy and Happy at DLC."

The Lipscomb family is unique. This Backlog in the following pages will show you that living for Christ is the happiest and best way to live.

I appreciate the students and faculty who have made this book possible.

In appreciation,

STUDENT TRADITIONS AT LIPSCOMB

"I'll never forget the first day in chapel — we sang 'Abide With Me'." All across the world, and across the years, no memory of Lipscomb is stronger than of the times we sang together. It may be the songs of 10:00 devotional or chapel, or programs by A Cappella or Chorale; it may be only the songs we sang in the dorm or to ourselves, but always we sang. And the memories of those songs continue to bless our lives.

There are specific memories — traditions — which leap to mind when we think of Lipscomb. There were the senior gifts to Brother Collins at graduation ... the hectic fun of Bison Day ... the excitement of Singarama ... candidate speeches in chapel ... Christmas presents for the orphan homes ... Brother Collins' chapel announcements ... life at Lipscomb.

Perhaps overall, the strongest tradition is that of friendliness. Hands and hearts reach out to each other ... faculty and students liking each other, respecting each other — strangers touching, and becoming friends — united for life. This is the heart of Lipscomb!

Mack Wayne Craig

EARL DENNIS

Vice President For Academic Affairs

The seventeen departments in the college continued to offer a strong academic program during the 1981-82 school year. With the Bachelor of Arts degree available in any of 55 fields of academic emphasis and the Bachelor of Science degree available in any of 41 fields, students were provided a wide choice of study at Lipscomb.

We are now studying the possibility of adding a master's degree program in Bible, a degree in civil engineering and a major in computer science. These new areas of study are being considered to meet the growing student demands in these fields.

The college faculty was strengthened during the year by the addition of Kathy Askew in Home Economics, Kim Beaty in Biology, John Crawford in Business Administration, Ed Edgin in English, David Foy in History, Wayne Garrett in English, Jerry Gaw in History, Bill Goree in Bible, Richard Hardy in the Library, Matt Hearn in English, Lynn Henderson in Home Economics, Rubel Shelly in Bible and Philosophy, and Bill Tallon in Chemistry.

Three former teachers returned to teach in the college: Everette Hunt in Physics, Gerald Moore in Music and Ralph Thurman in Art.

Three members of the faculty completed doctorates during the year. These included: Dr. Steve Flatt, Vice President for Business Affairs, Dr. Joyce Rucker, Assistant Professor of Education, and Jim Thomas, Assistant Registrar.

This year was the third year of a Five-Year Academic Development Program which was started in the fall of 1979. The 1979-80 school year was devoted to a series of departmental studies. The next year, 1980-81, was devoted to a major study of our general education program. This year has been devoted to the evaluation and development of the individual courses offered by the college. Each department has prepared a complete list of all classes offered during the past eight years, indicating the enrollment in each class. They have also developed a syllabus and a current bibliography for each course offered by the college.

During the 1982-83 school year, we are planning to prepare some type of "Faculty Development" program to help each faculty member improve his/her teaching techniques. Our current plans are to divide the faculty into groups of three and ask them to visit each others' classes and then meet together to discuss their impressions of the different classes. We are looking forward to further improvements in the academic program during the Golden Decade.

Continuing To Offer A Strong Academic Program

The 1982 Backlog will be a valuable addition to my library. It will be placed along side the many others I have on the shelf. The Backlog is not just a book of events, it is much more. It is people — people who have laughed, cried, and worked together. The Backlog is memories.

I am glad I had the privilege of being at Lipscomb during 1981-1982 and will have a book that will allow me to relive this school year.

I appreciate the hard work that has gone into the 1982 Backlog. Such a book does not “just happen”, it only comes about by hard work. Anita Le-Croy and her staff have worked long and hard, but their labor has given us a book of memories we can cherish.

While we are now recognizing 91 years of existence and anticipating the not-too-distant level of a century of Christian education, I keep remembering that Lipscomb is also new. It is as new as this year's beginning students or next year's freshmen.

Every alumnus returning to campus admits the creeping nostalgia of what the place was like and bemoans the sea of faces of people he has never known. There arises the sensation of "You don't belong. I was here before you." but a school enjoys the unique position of existing in three dimensions — its past, its present, and its future.

The Backlog represents for most a link with the past as it recedes far more rapidly than you'll like. But remember in the years to come that there was a time when Lipscomb impressed you with its newness and not its age. And pray God it will always be new for those who come. Our dream here for all those students yet to come is to provide old truths in an ever-new setting.

At Lipscomb we share a rich heritage of traditions ... traditions that provide a sense of continuity and inspire a feeling of kinship with those who were here before us. In days to come our memories of Lipscomb will no doubt include memories of participation in many of the traditions recorded in the 1982 Backlog.

A sense of tradition is not the only thing we share here, though. We also share our hopes and goals for Lipscomb's future. If we work together others may institute new traditions here as well as experience the ones that have meant so much to us.

Specialization Comes to the Art Department

The 1981-82 school year was another one of growth and specialization for the Art Department. Rudy Sanders devoted all his time teaching Photography courses. A new course in Photo-journalism has been added to the curriculum.

Robert Nipp continues to have large classes in Advertising Art. His students have opportunities to prepare graphic designs, brochures and exhibits that are used professionally. For the month of December members of his class designed a large exhibit for the Airport Authority.

Dawn Whitelaw continues to teach painting. Her professional experiences, particularly in portraits makes her a popular and productive member of the faculty.

Ralph Thurman has returned from the University of Tennessee and is teaching our Drawing and Printmaking. He has the most talented freshman class in Drawing that we have ever seen. Their exhibits are bringing a lot of excitement to the Department.

Art Appreciation continues to draw large enrollments. The Art Education classes are somewhat smaller than before because of the decreasing job market, but all the other areas are up. The future looks bright.

BIBLE

Since every student at Lipscomb takes a Bible class every day, the Bible faculty is of necessity larger than that of other departments. We desire that all our students be able to interpret the scriptures correctly and be able to adequately communicate biblical truths to others. With this in mind, we greatly emphasize textual studies in our daily Bible classes. In addition, we have a strong emphasis on Biblical languages, both Greek and Hebrew. We also have a strong mission emphasis within the department. General education requirements for all our students include speech courses, and several additional speech courses are required of our Bible majors, especially our preaching majors.

The needs of the church and of Christian education are varied in our modern era. In order to prepare our students for these varied services, we offer a major in one of five areas: Biblical Languages, Missions, Preaching, Religious Education, and Youth Ministry. A minor in Bible is also offered.

Plans are under way to begin a graduate program in Bible in the near future, which will culminate in a Master of Arts degree and will involve relatively a full year of additional work beyond the Bachelor of Arts degree. No firm dates for this beginning have been announced.

The Department experienced a deep loss just after spring quarter began with the death of Dr. Batsell Barrett Baxter, beloved chairman, who had directed our efforts for many years.

The Continuous Quest For Truth Motivates Biologists

The continuous quest for truth motivates biologists to probe deeper into the mysteries of life. From the heart of the cell, to a forest in the Smokies, to a summer on the lakes of Tennessee, young people in growing numbers broaden their understanding of an appreciation for the biological world of which they are a part.

The world tomorrow is of utmost concern for those who probe DNA and predict its expression upon the individual as well as the race. The transformation of microorganisms enabling them to perform tasks not previously possible and its implication to man's well-being have contributed to an era called the "biological revolution".

Biology at Lipscomb is an intriguing field of study and a basic part of every liberal arts education.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

The Department Of Business Administration
To Expand

The Department of Business Administration continues to strive for excellence. Our immediate goal, however, is to expand and update the offerings in the department to allow for majors in Finance and Marketing, to complement our present majors in Accounting, Economics, Management, and Office Administration, and to continue the reputation presently enjoyed by our graduates. For example, the department recently added such courses as organizational management, quantitative methods, managerial accounting, word processing, and office management to its offerings. Of equal importance is the fact that new facilities will be constructed to house the more than six hundred students presently majoring in the department. The new business administration building is designed to accommodate the latest computer and word processing technologies. Furthermore, efforts to improve the various curriculums include the hiring of three or more teachers, each one a specialist in his field.

Graduates of the department now total 1,583. Of this number, 898 majored in Management, 479 in Accounting, 174 in Office Management, and 32 in Economics. The majority of the department's current students are majoring in Management (275). The others are majoring in Accounting (225), Office Management (75), and Economics (25).

CHEMISTRY

The Chemistry Department at Lipscomb offers courses designed for liberal arts majors, pre-professional students, and professional chemistry majors. The Department, including instructional staff, courses offered, facilities and equipment, is approved by the Committee on Professional Education of the American Chemical Society. Only about 20 % of the college and university departments in the United States are approved by this organization. Instructors in the Department are experienced and make a very strong effort to give each student individual attention, both in lecture work and in laboratory work. Academic counseling is available from teachers to help students formulate plans for the future. The Department has long range plans for the aquisition of equipment to keep offerings abreast of current technology.

Teacher Education A Cooperative Effort

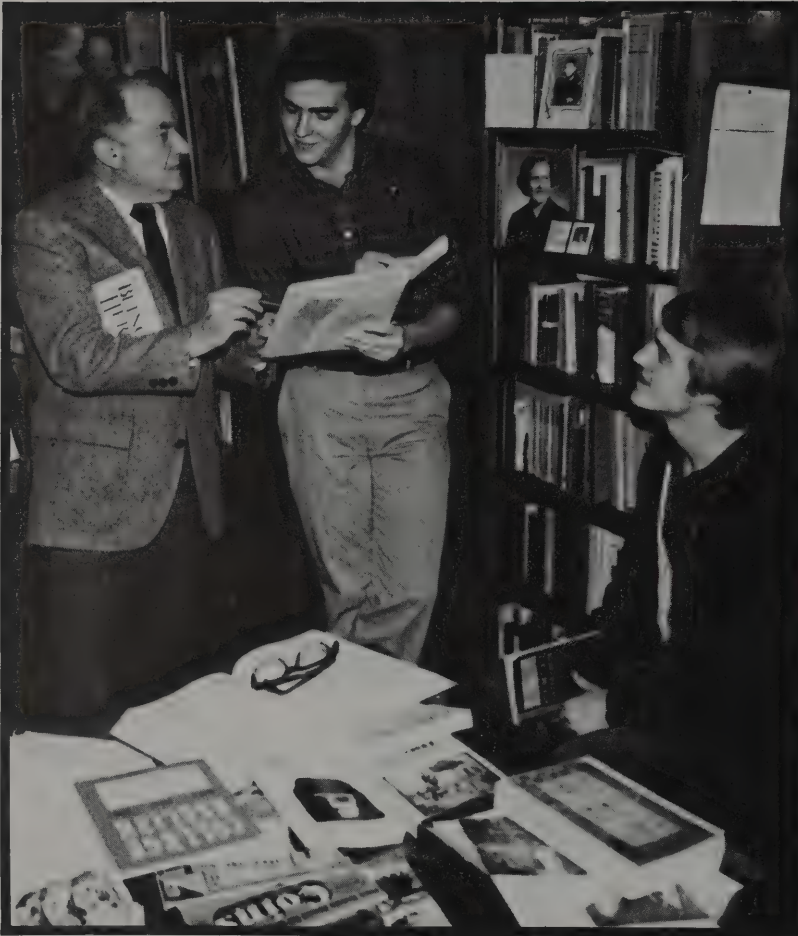

The Education Department works with other departments in the college in preparing elementary and secondary teachers. Teacher education involves the general education component, specialized subject matter, and a professional component. The professional component is shared jointly between the Department of Psychology and the Department of Education. There are six members of the education department faculty all of whom hold the doctor's degree. Dr. D.H. Wilkinson is retiring in June 1982 and will be replaced in September 1982.

The teacher education programs at Lipscomb are accredited by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education. Our programs are also approved by the Tennessee State Department of Education. Lipscomb students planning to teach are thus assured of quality preparation. It is our purpose to offer experiences which will prepare teachers to function in public schools as well as private schools. Although the demand for teachers has lessened in recent years, the projected increase in the school population indicates that there will be a growing demand from the middle to the last of the 80's.

ENGLISH

English Department Shares "Sweetness and Light"

Matthew Arnold defined culture as a body of shared thoughts and accomplishments possessing the sweetness of beauty and the light of wisdom. Members of the English Department at David Lipscomb College are dedicated to the task of familiarizing students with riches awaiting them in literary creations of the past and present. What they themselves know and love these teachers feel compelled to share.

They also recognize that within each breast there teem yearnings that cry out to be expressed; within each head reside ideas for which form and expression are critically necessary. There is a hunger in every individual, whether consciously recognized or not, to say and to be understood. There is a desire to communicate. The English Department strives to "unlock word hoards," in order that effective expression may be possible for all, not for English majors alone.

Members of the English Department accept the roles of propagating "the best that is known and thought in the world" and of training fresh minds to assure continuing contributions to the everflowing stream of culture.

Physical Education Department Offers Diversity

The Department of Health and Physical Education of David Lipscomb College has offered majors and minors in health and physical education for many years. In addition to our major/minor program we offer three additional programs that are of importance to our students.

First, all students are required to take at least three of our activity courses in order to graduate from David Lipscomb. Most of the courses in this program may be defined as lifetime activities. This means that the students who take these courses will be able to continue these activities for the rest of their lives. Most of our students appreciate these courses because they allow them to maintain a reasonable level of physical health.

Second, all students have the opportunity to participate in our intramural athletic program. We offer many different activities for both men and women. We hope to be able to develop more facilities in the near future for more students will be able to participate.

Third, we offer the intercollegiate athletic program. Although only a few may participate, practically all of our students enjoy watching our teams.

Writing Remains An Important Activity

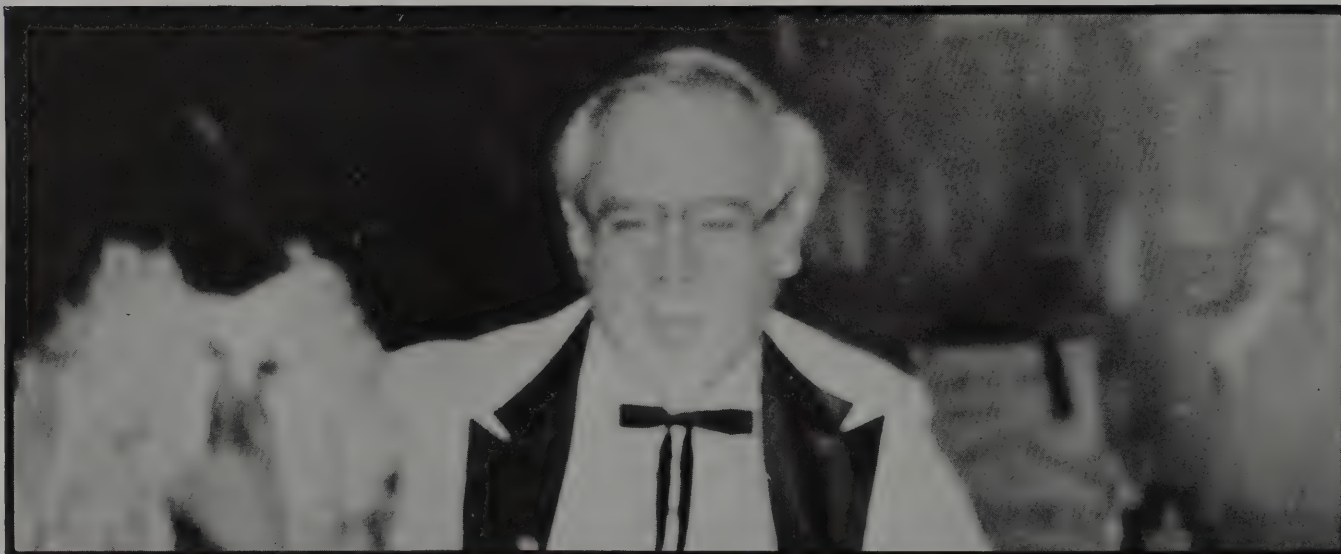

Beginning with the new school year in September, the 1981-1982 session has been one of the most productive in terms of student morale, faculty involvement in teaching, participation in professional activities, and publications.

Made up of six fulltime members, the Department of History and Political Science has sent three members to present papers to regional and national professional meetings. Dr. David Foy delivered a paper at the University of Alabama. Dr. Robert Hooper presented a paper at the International Convention of Phi Alpha Theta in St. Louis, and Dr. Connie Mauney traveled to San Diego to present a paper during the spring of 1982. Dr. Patrick Deese is vice-president of the Tennessee Political Science Association. He planned much of the state meeting that met in April. Dr. McDonough continued traveling from New Orleans to Milwaukee delivering papers at Civil War Roundtables.

Writing remains an important activity of the faculty. Dr. Hooper contributed to An Encyclopedia of Religion in the South, due for publication later in 1982, and work continues on an interpretative history of the Restoration Movement. Possibly the most prestigious publication among the faculty during 1982 was Dr. Mauney's article in the American Journal of Education, published by the University of Chicago Press. Dr. McDonough continues to work in Tennessee Civil War history. Another manuscript is nearing completion.

Everything considered, the 1981-1982 school year has been an exciting and productive period for the department. With the return in the fall of Dr. Timothy Tucker in history and Mr. Craig Bledsoe in political science, next school year looks to be even more outstanding.

HOME ECONOMICS

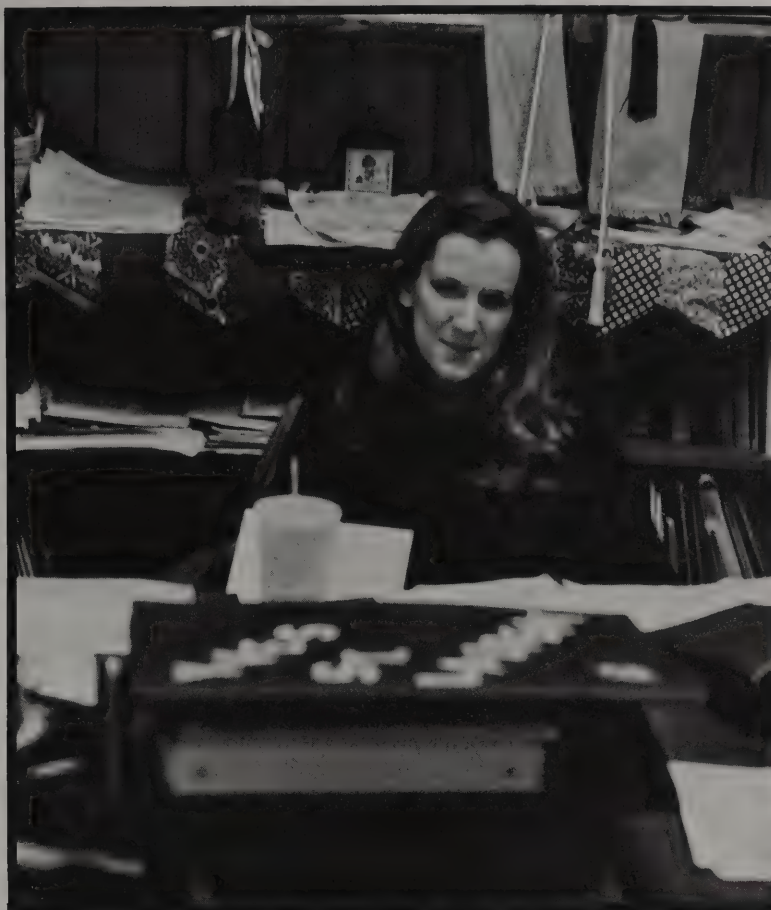

Newer trends in Home Economics

Due to the demand and change in the job market, the Department of Home Economics has moved from an area of generalization to one of specialization. The department offers four areas from which a student may choose a major.

The job market is greatest in the area of dietetics. Graduates from this area of specialization have successfully completed dietetic internships and examinations to become registered dietitians with The American Dietetic Association; and have won major scholarships to be applied toward a master's degree in medical education. The department has two dietitians on staff, Lynn Henderson and Eva Redmon, R.D. The trend toward the promotion of nutrition education from faculty and students has gained recognition in the community where the majority of dietetic majors are employed in the local hospitals; and from active participation, along with the interns from Vanderbilt, in the Nashville District Dietetic Association.

Kathy Askew, whose graduate work was in the area of textiles and clothing, has joined the faculty to coordinate and promote the area of fashion merchandising.

Crisman Memorial Library is a center of activity for Lipscomb students and faculty. The building was completed in 1948 with funds provided by the B.A. Crisman family of Chattanooga, and since then the library has grown to more than 140,000 volumes. Whatever the research needs of the users may be, the library strives to meet these needs in an atmosphere of friendly assistance and service.

MATHEMATICS

The Department of Mathematics continues to offer both bachelor of arts and bachelor of science degrees for regular majors and teaching majors. Graduates with a major in mathematics have found ample opportunities for employment (including teaching). Many have chosen to continue their studies in graduate school. There is every indication that such opportunities will expand in years to come as the demand for mathematicians increases.

In addition to the broad spectrum of opportunities already available to a mathematics major, our recent graduates have found work in computer science to be a very desirable expansion of their background. Graduates with training in both mathematics and computer science are in very great demand, and Lipscomb graduates have found and are finding their share of golden opportunities. Again this year it was a pleasure to have graduates return for Homecoming and tell their successes in graduate schools and on the job.

It is a source of satisfaction that Lipscomb mathematics majors continue to perform well above the average in comparative and competitive situations such as the Graduate Record Examination, graduate school performance, and on-the-job performance. The entire faculty of the Department of Mathematics is dedicated to continuing and enhancing this tradition of excellence.

Modern Language Department Keeping Pace (in today's world)

In a time when colleges and universities are cutting spending and trimming departments, the Modern Language Department, though not flourishing, has managed to keep intact its faculty and students. The Department has introduced courses in Commercial French, German and Spanish for students interested in working in international business. Emphasis in all classes is placed on the spoken language, and an attempt is made to foster appreciation of the history and culture of the countries whose languages are studied. Students also have opportunity through travel courses to visit the country of the language being learned.

The Department believes strongly that there is no better way of attaining peace in the world than by achieving a high degree of communication among the people who speak different languages. The faculty strives, therefore, to enable the student to understand, speak, read, and write in the foreign language; and to have some familiarity with the history, culture, and literature written in the particular language. The faculty invites all students to become better acquainted with the offerings of the Department.

MUSIC

Music, A Performing Art

The Lipscomb Department of Music is not only developing a strong academic program for those who major or minor in the art, but at the same time is emphasizing music as a performing art. The faculty now consists of specialists in music theory, in piano and vocal performance, in choral and instrumental conducting, in music history and literature, and in secondary and elementary music education.

The department has four vocal ensembles and two instrumental ensembles who present performances for schools, churches, campus and community events. The ensembles are A Cappella Singers, Chamber Singers, Chorale, Celebrations, Concert Band, and Jazz Band. The three major ensembles (A Cappella, Chorale, and Concert Band) take an annual spring tour and perform in several states. This year the A Cappella Singers represented Lipscomb as performers at the Tennessee Petroleum Distributors Convention, at the Governor's Prayer Breakfast, at the World's Fair in Knoxville, and on a twenty-one day trip to Europe as part of the 1982 Music Festival in St. Mortiz, Switzerland.

The Department of Music has approximately seventy-five majors and minors, and those who major in music may choose between applied and music education programs.

Computer Science Major Planned for 1982

The Department of Physics and Engineering Science is responsible for the academic programs of Astronomy, Computer Science, Engineering Science, and Physics. Students have a wide range of program choices as majors are available in Physics, Health Physics, Engineering Science, Engineering Physics, Engineering Science with a Business option and a teaching major in Physics.

Several pre-engineering programs are available, including dual degree programs with Auburn University, University of Tennessee at Knoxville, Georgia Institute of Technology, Tennessee Technological University, and Vanderbilt University.

The physics and engineering faculty include doctorates in the specialties of elementary particle physics, electron spin resonance, x-ray physics, and physics education.

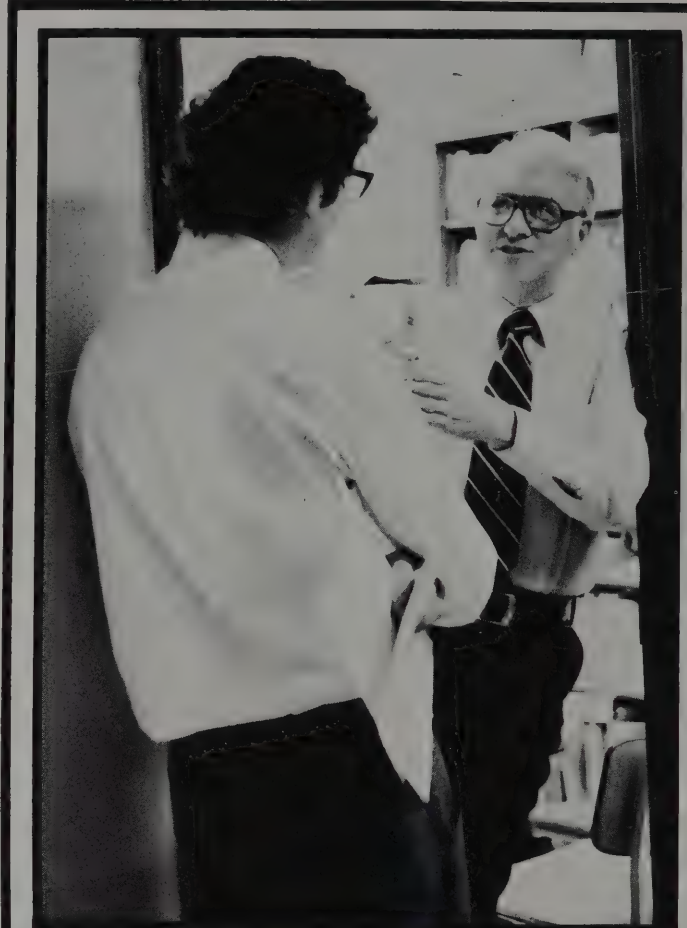

Two eight inch celestron telescopes, a DEC PDP-11 which communicates with the Vanderbilt University DEC St System 1099 and controls twelve student terminals, line printer, and card reader, well-equipped labs, and a machine shop, support the curriculum.

The Nell Conlee Hunt Scholarship is available to one entering student each year. The selection is based on academic achievement and intent to major in one of the areas of the department.

The area of Computer Science grew out of programming courses required for the engineering science program. A minor in Computer Science was first offered at the beginning of the 1980-81 school year.

A major in Computer Science will be available to students in the Fall of 1982. Future plans includes a major program in Civil Engineering.

PSYCHOLOGY

Faculty Participates In Service Projects

The Department of Psychology has evaluated and updated the course offerings in its various degree programs. Courses designed to acquaint the student with the literature resources available in the field of psychology, to give direction in researching and writing scientific papers, and to provide the student with some practical experience in agency settings where psychological principles are practiced have been incorporated into student requirements. As a result, it is felt that the program has been strengthened significantly both for the student who terminates with the bachelor's degree and for the student who continues into graduate school studies.

The faculty members have been active in participation in regional professional psychological associations this year, and they have encouraged student participation in these groups as well.

It is a concern of the faculty that the Department should be of service to our community and to our brotherhood. Accordingly, most of the faculty members serve in counseling and psychotherapy in a wide range of congregational and community service settings. It is the hope and desire of the Department to expand its service functions both on campus and off in the coming months.

Sociology and Social Work Department Expands

Working from its strongest and largest personnel base ever, five teachers, the Department of Sociology and Social Work continues to offer three high quality major programs of study in sociology, social work, a teaching major, and sociology minor. Besides these, the department serves to aid other departments in teacher and other certification and program enrichment in its elective courses.

This department's goal is to help its graduates to be good citizens of their society, to work well as professionals, and to live enlightened lives. Its graduates perform well in graduate programs and serve God and man well in many ways and in many places.

A continuing effort is being made to achieve certification for an already excellent program in Social Work. Regular participation in professional meetings contributes to continuing faculty development in the department.

SPEECH COMMUNICATION

Debate Team Wins Second In National Tournament

Five hundred seventy-five students who have graduated from David Lipscomb College have majored in Speech Communication. They have excelled in family and business life, and as leaders in the church.

At least fifty-five speech majors now have the Ph. D. degree. Some are presidents of colleges, some are in national media, many are successful professional people. At least six are Chairman of Speech Communications Departments of major colleges and universities. Many of the outstanding preachers who have graduated from David Lipscomb College majored in Speech.

The Speech Communication Department continues to grow. The journalism courses are now in the department, and we have added five new courses, most of them in the broadcasting area. Our new campus radio station is in operation. Dr. Schott's debate team won second in the national debate tournament. One of our faculty, Dr. Marlin Connelly, received the award as the outstanding teacher of the year. We are up in the number of majors.

We have ten full-time members who teach in the Speech Communication Department and one part-time. Many of us who teach in the department continue to teach also in the Bible Department.

In addition to an excellent academic program, there are many co-curricular activities which are a part of the Speech Communication Department. The Pied Pep Pipers, Inter-collegiate Debate Team, the Founder's Day Oratorical Contest, The Woman's Oratorical Contest, major drama productions, Arena Theatre, campus radio station and an intern program with local radio and television stations which offer students on-the-job training.

The Speech Communication Department offers a strong academically trained and dedicated faculty, a well-balanced course of study, and challenging student activities.

The student life at David Lipscomb College has for the past four years largely centered around a unique type of student government known as the All Student Association.

"The beauty of the ASA is the committee system," as Laurie Rikkenbauch stated. The senate operated on the basis of five committees.

The academic committee, under the guidance of David Cochran, planned Career Day and the quiz bowls.

The election committee, headed by Tim Partlow, oversaw the intricacies of political and social student elections.

Chaired by Lisa Jones, the entertainment committee brought box-office hits such as "Dr. Zhivago" "Superman II," and the "Elephant Man." A Halloween special featured the movie "Dial M for Murder" and ghost stories told in the confines of Bison Square.

Grady Smith led the spiritual life committee by supervising a student survey and working toward adding an introductory Bible course to the curriculum.

Annette Alexander managed the food preference committee and the popular Pumpkin Carving Contest while proposing an official sign to identify the school.

Working to serve the students and please the administration, this group of dedicated students kept campus enthusiasm high to make 1981-82 another successful year for the All Student Association.

The BABBLER saw another year of leadership under editor Glenda Tennant. It was her second year to keep Lipscomb students well-informed and maintain the paper's quality.

The staff benefited from a workshop held in September by Mario Garcia, a professor of graphic art in Journalism School at Syracuse University. This noted expert assisted in making modifications in the BABBLER layout.

The paper switched advisors this year, leaving the English department and Dennis Loyd and moving to the speech communication department with advisor David England. The move provided closer ties to the News Bureau.

In the future, Glenda looks to a stronger program involving more facilities, expansion, and possible special editors of the paper.

The staff devoted their energy and many hours of charitable work to produce a publication for the students, making available a steady stream of information and a medium for campus communication.

The 1982 BACKLOG, designed by Editor Anita LeCroy, seeks to portray the grace and eloquence of ninety years of Lipscomb tradition.

A graphic design was chosen to bring continuity to the book. Conceived by commercial artist Dawn Whitelaw and rendered by Robin Crosslin, a DLC logo runs throughout the BACKLOG. Depicting those persons prominent in the history of the school, an ink drawing by Ralph Thurman introduces the opening section. Features highlighting traditions of student life appear throughout the yearbook.

It proved a challenge to create and design a 296 page book under the existing conditions. With the workload falling into the hands of a persistent few, the staff donated portions of Christmas break and many sleepless nights.

It is that long tradition — ever pointing to Lipscomb's rich heritage and developing anew from the student customs — that lies between the covers of the 1982 BACKLOG.

Alpha Chi is a coeducational society whose purpose is to promote academic excellence and exemplary character among college and university students and to honor those achieving such distinction. Alpha Chi predicates its membership upon accomplishment rather than mere interest or participation. According to national rules, seniors must rank in the top ten percent of their class, and juniors must be in the top five percent. Alpha Chi's motto, identical to the school's motto, is from John 8:32, "The truth shall make you free."

The Tennessee Kappa chapter held its first induction ceremony on February 23, 1982 since the induction of the charter members in the spring of 1981. During this ceremony Tennessee Kappa admitted to active membership fourteen juniors ranking in the upper fifth and twenty-one seniors ranking in the upper tenth of their classes.

— ALPHA RHO TAU —

The art club Alpha Rho Tau sought to instill awareness and interest in the visual arts. They also promoted concern for art on campus, arranging for student and professional art exhibits. Visiting places of interest in the Nashville area provided the members with broadening experiences. In addition to the field trips, they advanced fellowship through such activities as the Christmas party hosted at the Whitelaw's home. The student body especially benefited from the club's creation and construction of the Homecoming set.

In order to honor those who have invested their time, energies and talents in drama, Alpha Psi Omega was designed to give recognition to participants on the stage and behind the scenes. These juniors and seniors benefited from their collective experiences in various theater activities.

AMERICAN CHEMICAL SOCIETY

The American Chemical Society was primarily for students interested in chemistry and advancing in the field of chemistry. Special benefits included receiving related literature and profiting from guest lecturers. They also promoted student awareness of problems and accomplishments in their field through seminars and film presentations.

COLLEGE DEMOCRATS

The primary goal of the College Democrats was to give students meaningful input into the political process. The club sponsored guests lectures by political leaders and gave members opportunities to become involved in political campaigns at all levels. Though small in number, the benefits received from the experiences proved to be valuable.

Glenn Waters, president; Nina Jones, vice president; Randy Foster, secretary.

The College Republicans were active in making their voices heard on campus and in the community. Early in the year members attended a seminar at Vanderbilt in which they heard representatives from Washington D.C. The group was also working toward the August primaries for governor in the Alexander campaign in addition to working closely with all Republican campaigns. They further benefited from guest lecturers.

COLLEGE REPUBLICANS

The primary objective of the Dactylology Club was to teach its members the sign language. Weekly classes are held for both beginning and advanced students, and they use their skills in area congregations to interpret the sermon. The club held a chapel service this past year to familiarize the student body with the needs of the deaf during collective worship, and they attended several workshops to make these efforts more effective.

Students majoring or minoring in Home Economics composed Delta Theta Pi, an organization which purposed to prepare students for effective and satisfying personal, family, and community Christian living. Hearing professional speakers, participating in district meetings, with representatives attending annual state conventions of AHEA, prepared the members for various careers in the field of home economics. An annual Crafts Bazaar was the year's gala enterprise.

DELTA THETA PI

Dietetics

The Dietetics Club was composed of the students majoring in dietetics who were dedicated to the improvement of the nutrition of human beings, the advancement of the science of dietetics and nutrition, and the promotion of education in these areas. Highlighting these goals was National Nutrition Month in which members visited dietetic departments of hospitals to discuss career qualifications with professionals.

The purpose of Epsilon Delta Pi was to promote the engineering science program at Lipscomb. Their goals were as follows: They hoped to broaden the school's program to include civil, mechanical, electrical, and chemical engineering degrees, and keep a larger percentage of freshmen and sophomores enrolled at Lipscomb for the full four-year program. Finally, the club planned activities to improve all areas of growth in its members.

Epsilon Delta Pi

Mu Epsilon Delta

Enjoying a high percentage of acceptances into medical school, Mu Epsilon Delta was organized to maintain these standards for students pursuing a medically-related profession. The members hoped to build a web of communication between professional schools throughout the country while affirming a sense of camaraderie among one another.

Consisting of music majors and minors, the Student Music Educators National Conference (SMENC) allows its members to explore various aspects of music education. The members' ideas were broadened through the Music Educators Journal and the Tennessee Musician, publications of the national and state organizations respectively.

MENC

Pi Beta Sigma

Pi Beta Sigma, a professional organization for social work majors, reflected the goals of social work through their motto "Protecting, Building and Serving." The overall goals of Pi Beta Sigma were to support the development of the social work program, to prepare students for professional practice, and to assist in the certification process as they move toward accreditation by the Council on Social Work Education. To accomplish these goals, social work majors were involved in volunteer efforts with social service agencies and hosted a seminar on campus in the spring.

Advancing the importance of activity in the process of human development, Pi Epsilon provided recreational and professional opportunities for those majoring or minoring in physical education. They stressed participation in sports activities, sponsored health programs, and organized service projects such as Jump Rope for Heart and Girl Scouts. Conventions, outings, and meetings constructed the framework for student input and involvement.

Phi Alpha Theta

The international honor society in history, Phi Alpha Theta, is the largest and one of the oldest honor societies in America. It is dedicated to the quest of truth through the study of history. Under the sponsorship of Dr. James Lee McDonough, the Lipscomb chapter hosted many eminent guest speakers, took trips of historical interest, and participated in all intramural and regional conferences.

A national speech fraternity for intercollegiate debates with chapters in more than 200 colleges and universities, Pi Kappa Delta strove this year to promote scholarship and competition in the field of forensic speaking. Competing in ten to twelve debate tournaments each year, members of the debate team join Pi Kappa Delta as soon as they are qualified.

Pi Kappa Delta

Phi Mu Alpha

Phi Mu Alpha was a professional music fraternity for men majoring or minoring in music. They encouraged the highest standards of creativity, performance, education, and research in music while instilling in all people awareness for music's enrichment of the human spirit. The organization promoted musically related activities on campus and in the community. They contributed their abilities to the school by producing the annual student talent show under the auspices of the All Student Association. Talented Emily Lester served as the fraternity's sweetheart to add a special dimension.

Psi Chi was the national honor society in psychology. Their object was to encourage, stimulate, and maintain scholarship in all fields emphasizing psychology. They were also interested in advancing the subject as a science. In the past, they have helped freshmen determine which courses to take for a specific field in psychology.

Sigma Alpha Iota

Sigma Alpha Iota was an international honorary music fraternity for women. Their primary objective was to further the highest standards of study and musicianship. They shared their talents and energies ushering for the Nashville Symphony, singing at Lakeshore Home for the Aged, and planning a Homecoming reception.

For those who have distinguished themselves in the field of English, the honorary fraternity Sigma Tau Delta provided a place to share interest and appreciation of literature. The organization conferred distinction for high achievement in all levels of study in English language and literature. It provided cultural stimulation on the campus, while creative and critical writing were also encouraged among its members.

The Student Tennessee Education Association was composed of students planning to teach, providing them with an opportunity to participate in a professional organization at the undergraduate level. A program or guest lecturer was presented at every meeting. Activities included student teacher receptions, "Teacher Pals", spring and fall picnics, summer ice cream parties, membership drives, conventions, and workshops. In addition to their involvement in National Education Week and in tutoring young people, they were responsible for the annual Faculty Talent Show.

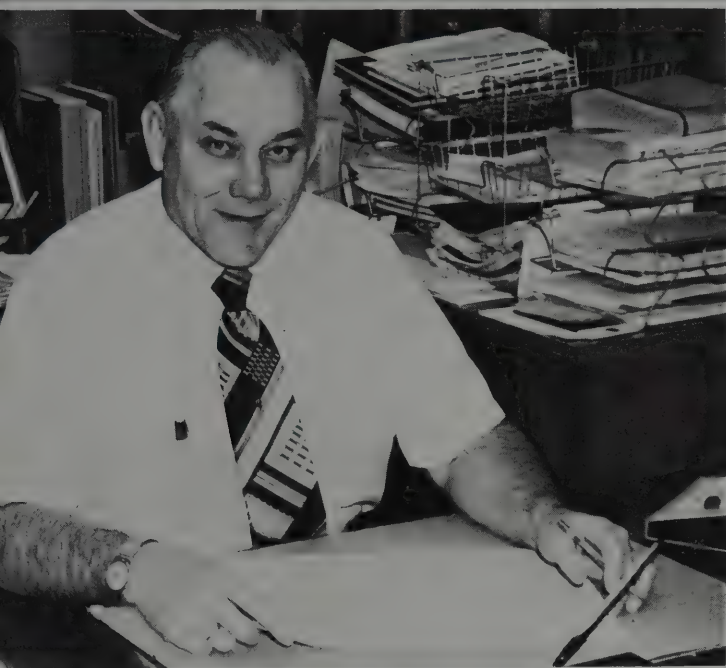

Alpha Kappa Psi

Alpha Kappa Psi is a professional business fraternity which organizes its group life to promote professional competency and achievement within the field of business. They were well-rounded in that they became involved with service and social activities in addition to their professional endeavors. Each year they sponsor a student directory, a Santa House for the orphans in the surrounding area, and they lend their efforts to the March of Dimes. They were active socially through organizing powderpuff football, banquets, hay rides, cookouts, and intramural sports. The fraternity enjoyed professional speakers at the club dinners to further professional interests. The Delta Kappa chapter has enjoyed first place in the national standings for 24 consecutive years, receiving points in professional activities, scholarship, membership, finance, and general administration.

Phi Beta Lambda

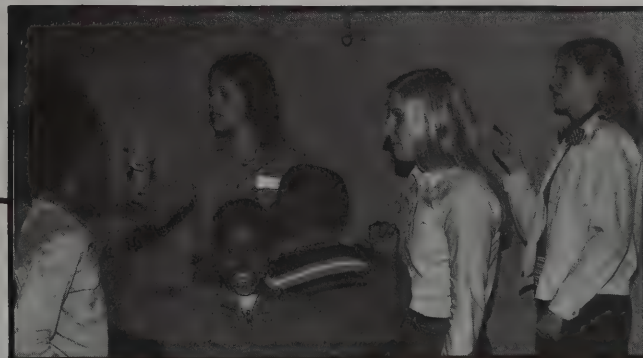

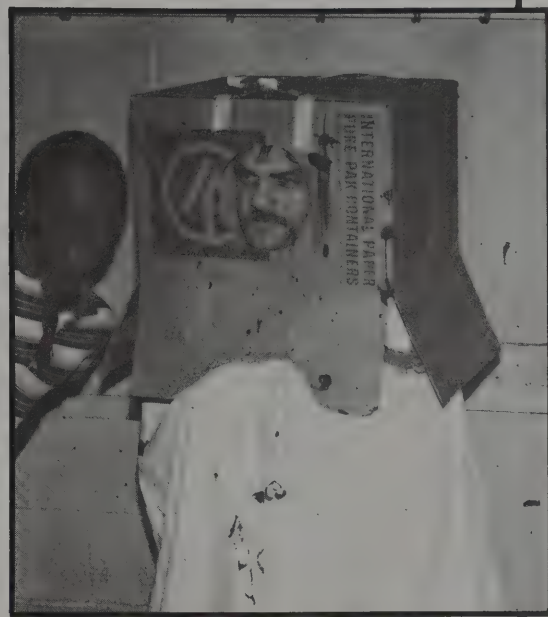

Phi Beta Lambda, a national Business organization, was committed to preparing women for careers in business. The Delta Theta Chapter participated in leadership conferences, workshops, and competition with other college chapters in various business skills. In cooperation with Alpha Kappa Psi, the girls held open house for business students, completed a student directory, and sponsored the Santa House, where gifts are left by students for orphans.

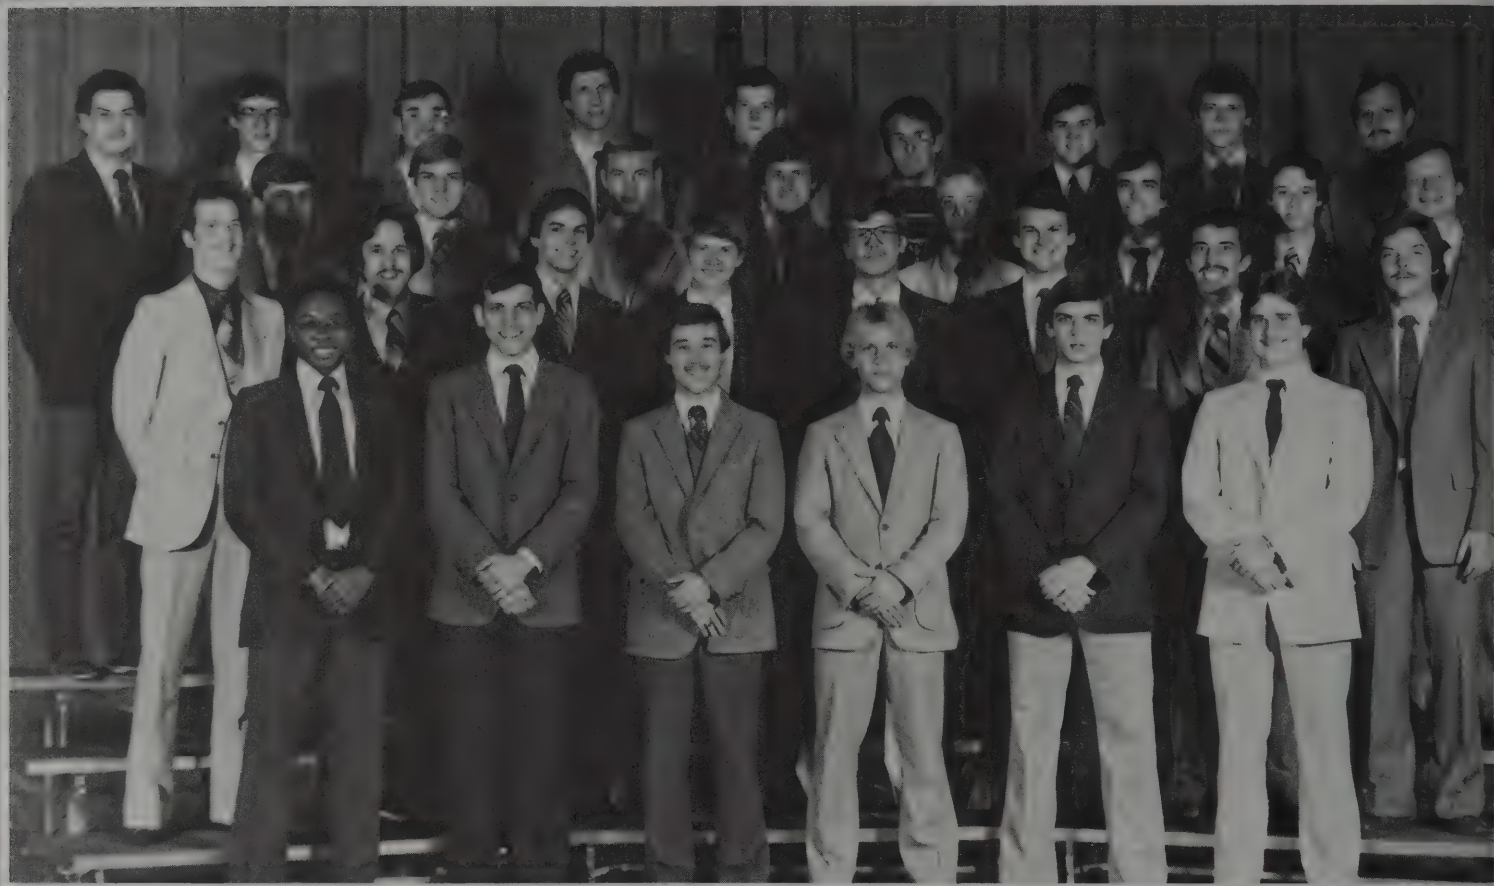

Front Row: Denise Wilson, historian; Cynthia Taylor, vice-president; Wanda Perison, President; Carol Womack, pledge mistress; Cynthia Malone, secretary; Christy Nestor, treasurer. Second Row: Paula Null, Myra Grady, Ronda Adams, Melanie McConnell, Lauren Dickinson, Kathy Stansbury, Debbie Greenwood, Sondra Fleming. Third Row: Pat Voce, Jennifer Vickery, Sheila Sticklin, Julie Corbin, Debbie Niebel, Melody Capshaw, Annette Butler, Sydney Wright. Fourth Row: Barbara Thompson, Hollie Bruner, Dana Donaldson, LaVerne English, Kathy Osteen, Carol Boyd, Cindy Harper. Back Row: Leah Williams, Beth Corley, Kathy Smith.

A club designed for those who want to work with people, Circle K and K-ritten formed the collegiate extension of the Kiwanis Club. Choosing this year's theme, "Together for Tomorrow", the group placed special emphasis on teenagers, the elderly, and the handicapped. In carrying out their theme, the club helped young people through the Saturday School project at Ashwood Church of Christ and tutored inner-city children at the Youth Hobby Shop. They also served the elderly at Lakeshore Home for the Aged along with the shut-ins in the Granny White Church of Christ program. Furthermore the group worked with the handicapped at Outlook Nashville.

Lipscomb's Civitan-Civinettes Club has captured numerous awards, and the club members have always received the satisfaction of providing service to others. Often working in close conjunction with one another, they were able to help those in need of assistance at Lipscomb, in Nashville, and in other parts of Middle Tennessee.

As in years past, Civitan-Civinettes' primary campus service was ensuring all Lipscomb students and personnel blood coverage by the American Red Cross. Their other projects reached those of all ages, from young orphans to Nashville's senior citizens. They also involved themselves in fund raising projects and collection for charities.

The Lipscomb Civitan-Civinettes completed another year filled with activity, giving their time and energy in service to others.

Project Good News, a world evangelism ministry of Central Church of Christ, Valdosta, Georgia, prepared men and women for missionary work through its training program. The program provided the groundwork for an apprentice under an experienced missionary for a period of two years. These elders saw that the apprentices were supported with subsistence wages by one of the many interested congregations throughout the country.

Under the direction of Dr. Joe Gray, Project Good News welcomed anyone willing to devote a portion of his life to self-training and teaching other people. An associate program was available in the fall for men and women who have retired and were willing to study for one quarter at Lipscomb. Students fit in the needed courses in the elective areas, and gained valuable experience through a "personal work" program and campaign work.

The student body is oriented to the program through fall's Project Good News Week. They make use of displays, chapel time, radio airtime, and a pie supper to educate the public.

The club presently has thirty in training, sending forth about one person each month to eight different countries. They are planning a campaign in Australia for June, replacing the traditional trip in the spring break. The club reserves special time for each other on various retreats throughout the year.

WHO'S WHO

Accounting major ANDREA JO ANDERSON from Florence, Alabama, was an active member of Alpha Chi national honor society, Pi Delta social club, and the national business honor society Phi Beta Lambda. Andrea represented the student body as an at-large attendant in 1981 Homecoming, and was chosen as a campus beauty in 1980. The Financial Executives Institute presented her with an award for outstanding work in accounting and finance.

DENNIS E. BARR, a business management major from Indianapolis, Indiana, served as vice-president, pledge master, and rush chairman of Gamma Xi social club. A 1982 Homecoming escort-at-large, Dennis served as a resident assistant in Sewell Hall, was active in intramural athletics, and was named to the Dean's List.

CHRISTY CHEEK, a business management major from Goodlettsville, Tennessee, was vice-president of Delta Sigma social club. Stemming from her social club participation, Christy took part in the Delta Na Na Na and Singarama productions, as well as intramural athletics. She was consistently placed on the Honor Roll and served as a freshman Big Sister.

Biology major KEVIN A. CHUNN from Huntsville, Alabama, serving as secretary of Delta Nu social club, participated in intramural football, Singarama, and Delta Na Na Na. He was also a member of American Chemical Society, Mu Epsilon Delta, Society of Collegiate Journalists, and represented the student body as a Homecoming escort-at-large in 1981. A newswriter for The Babbler, and a member of the 1979-80 Backlog staff, Kevin was named to the Dean's List and Honor Roll on several occasions.

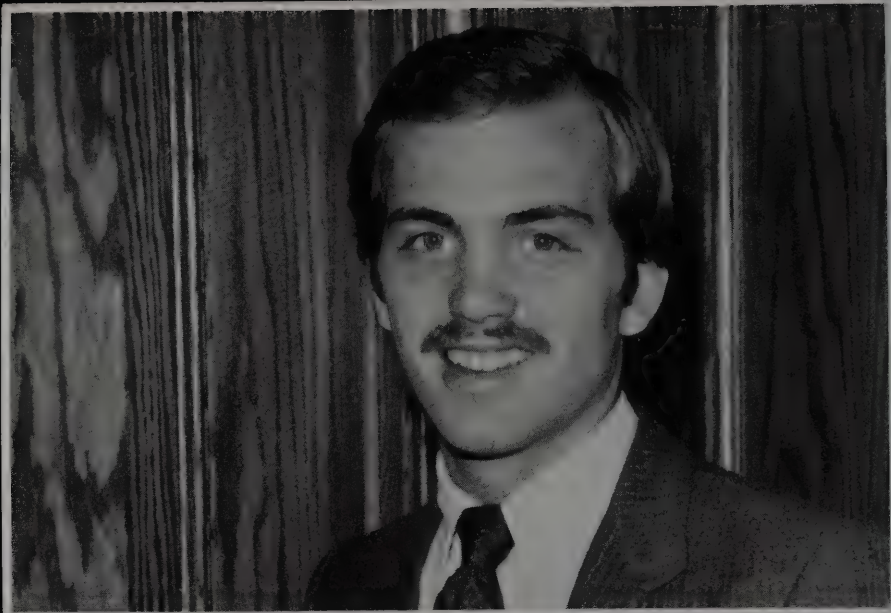

DONNA CLANTON, a business management major from Florence, Alabama, served as president of Pi Delta social club participating in intramural sports and Singarama. Donna, a cheerleader, senator-at-large, and treasurer of the All Student Association, served on the A.S.A. entertainment committee, and was elected senior Homecoming attendant.

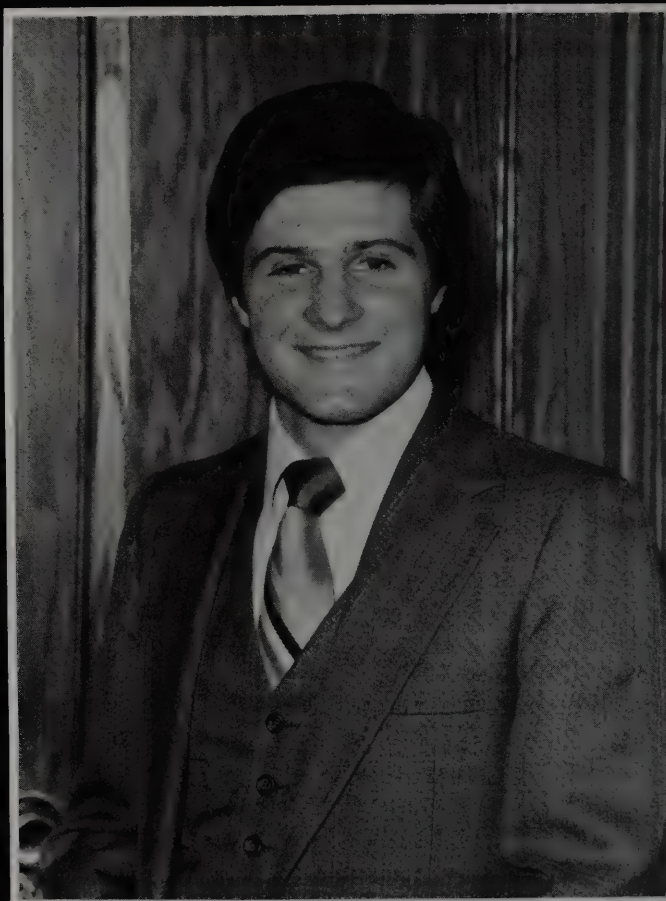

A political science and communications major, TIMOTHY LEE EASTER from Nashville, Tennessee, participated in many campus activities. He was summer editor of The Babbler, president of the Inter-Club Council and Tau Phi president. He was also a member of the College Republicans, Society of Collegiate Journalists, Woodrow Wilson Society, the Student Bar Association, and served as news director for the new college radio station WDLR.

Who's Who honoree MARK V. EZELL of Nashville, Tennessee, was very active on the Lipscomb campus. He served as president of Tau Phi social club, was a member of the College Republicans and Civitans. A member of the All Student Association, Mark helped raise over $50,000 for the development of the Bison Square Project. Mark also served as a resident assistant in High Rise and married Martha C. Nance in August of 1981.

RETIRING TEACHERS

Dr. Morris Landiss, who served as acting chairman of the English department from 1949-55 and chairman from 1960-80, contributed a great amount of time and energy to the excellent reputation of the English Department. Looking back on his teaching career at Lipscomb Dr. Landiss felt that "it was a very pleasant experience."

Among those persons who have completed a major under his direction, several are nationally known.

Dr. Landiss served as president of the Tennessee Philological and Tennessee College English Associations, the Nashville Council of Teachers of English and the Middle Tennessee Council of Teachers of English. He also served on the staff of Mississippi Studies of English.

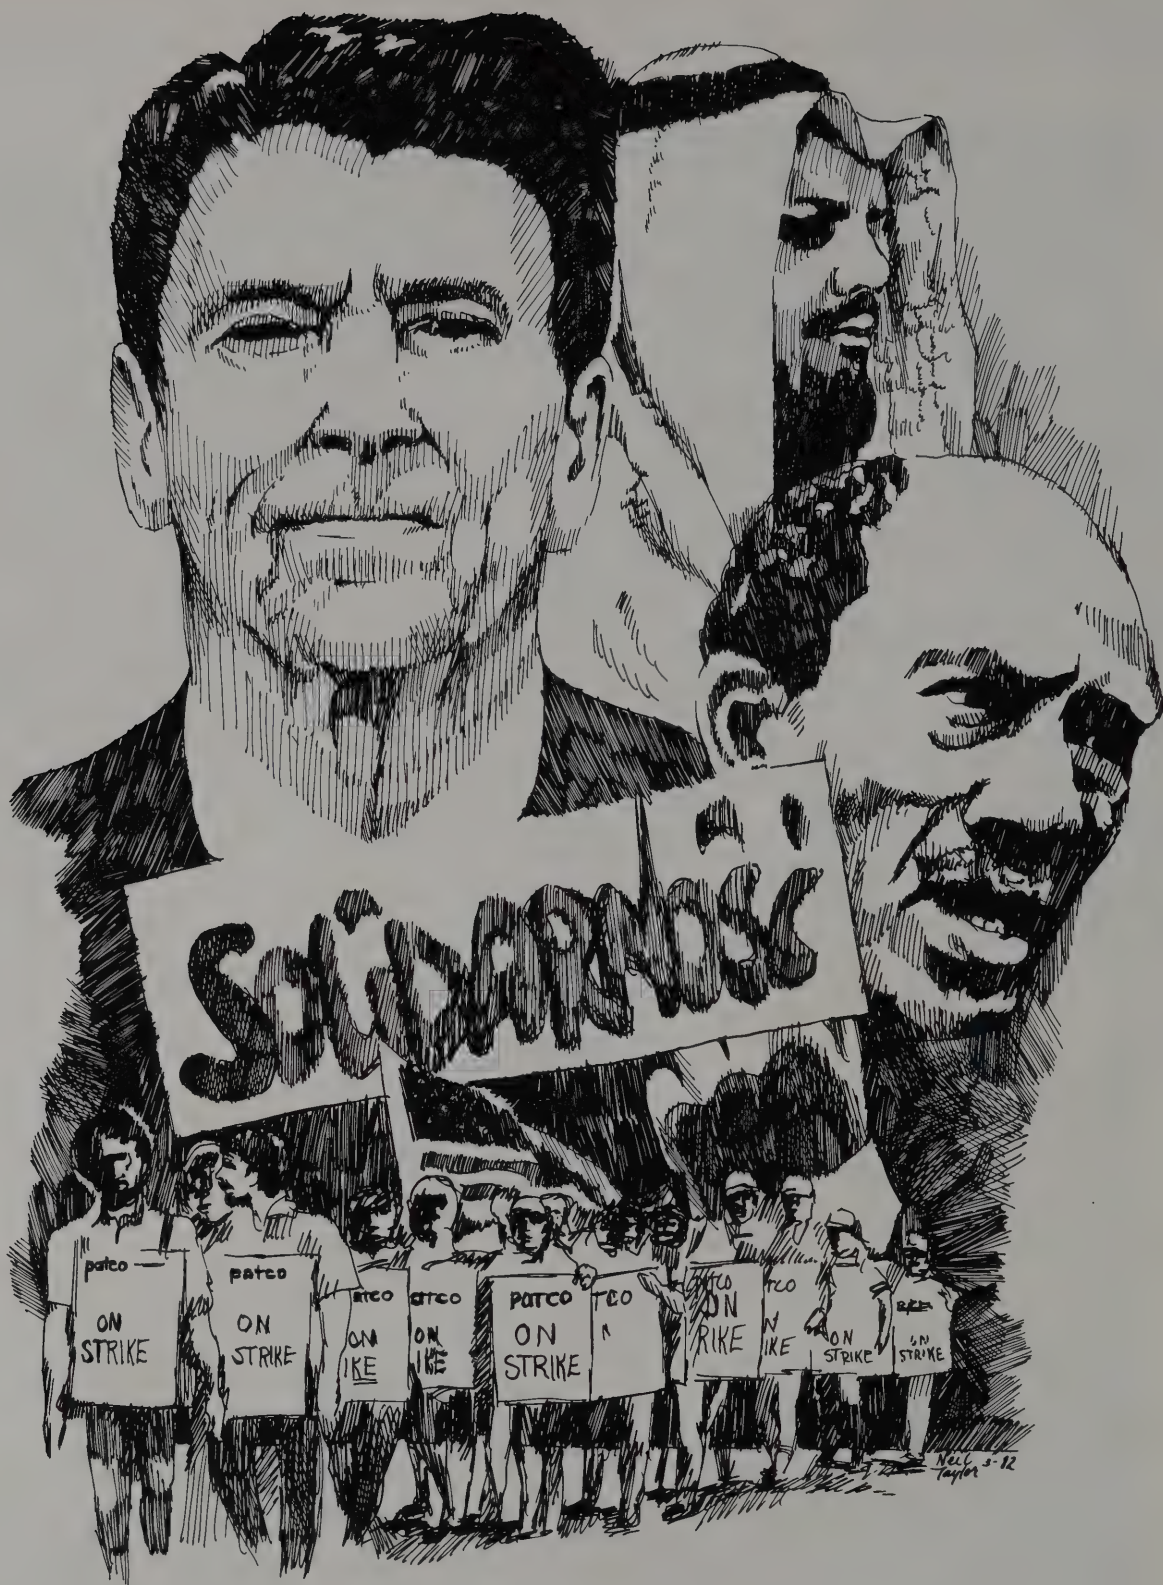

Dr. Morris Landiss is to be commended for his many years of superb service to David Lipscomb College.

A professor in the Education Department, Dr. D.H. Wilkinson came to Lipscomb in 1962. During his tenure at Lipscomb he taught some psychology and in the last eighteen years he focused his interest on early childhood education.

"I enjoyed my involvement with the curriculum in teacher education" said Dr. Wilkinson of his career at Lipscomb. Dr. Wilkinson served as the president of the Middle Tennessee chapter of Student Teacher Education and served on the program committee of the Association for Teacher's Education. His curriculum development interest led to his involvement in the National Conference for Curriculum Development.

Upon his retirement Dr. Wilkinson is to be praised for his fine contributions to this institution.

CURRENT EVENTS

Each year that passes leaves memories of people and events which make that year unique. The past year's happenings on both the international and domestic fronts are no exception.

It was a year marked by unrest in Soviet controlled areas and Soviet attempts to extend their spheres of control. The problem of world Soviet interventionism made itself known in El Salvador. The Reagan administration sought to prove to the world that the fire raging there is primarily fueled by Soviet-sponsored subversion and spread by Soviet-influenced Cuba and Nicaragua.

At the same time, however, Solidarity, a Polish workers' union led by Lech Walensa, stood in defiance of Moscow with a call for free unions in the Eastern bloc and free Polish elections.

The assassination of Egyptian president Anwar Sadat shocked the world and left a dangerous political void in the Middle East. The world was left without one of the few leaders whose courage seemed to have made a difference in history.

On the home front, President Ronald Reagan initiated a New Federalism program as an attempt to solve the country's economic woes.

Closer to home and DLC, the Tennessee city of Knoxville geared up to host the 1982 World's Fair. Built around the theme of energy, the events expects to draw some eleven million visitors.

The social event of the year was the long awaited marriage of Charles Philip Arthur George Windsor, Prince of Wales, to Lady Diana Frances Spencer, in a ceremony viewed by millions through the magic of television. The spectacle was one of fairytale splendor, and it seemed to bring an hour of peace and pride to a riot-torn Britain.

To the entertainment industry, this year was marked heavily by tragedy. Actress Natalie Wood and actors William Holden and John Belushi all met untimely deaths. Yet it was a year of quality, as the annual Academy Awards presentations demonstrated. Henry Fonda and Katherine Hepburn were honored for their superior performances in On Golden Pond, while Chariots of Fire was presented with Best Picture honors.

Daytime television's General Hospital provided afternoon love, drama and suspense for millions. It even developed into a campus craze until the demise of Luke and Laura.

The wide world of sports provided the year with a number of memorable teams and personalities. Brains over-

"Reaganomics" seeks to reduce the amount of government spending and to lessen the burden on the taxpayer.

A strike against the federal government by air traffic controllers stood as the test of the administration's ability to stand by their policies. The transportation industry was then struck by tragedy when a plane crashed into the Potomac River in Washington, D.C., killing all but a handful of those on board.

In March, after nine weeks of proceedings and only twelve hours of deliberations, a jury gave its verdict as the solution to part of the nation's most infamous murder mystery. It found Wayne B. Williams guilty of murdering two of the twenty-eight young blacks slain in Atlanta, Georgia, between July, 1979, and May of 1981.

On a happier note, gas prices dropped below a dollar in parts of the United States as OPEC fought an overwhelming supply and decreasing demand of oil. The utilization of space travel crossed a new frontier as American sent the Columbia space shuttle through space, returned it to earth, and then sent the same ship into space again, and again.

shadowed braun as two teams arrived at the Pontiac Silverdome only a year after finishing with obscure 6-10 records. Joe Montana led the San Francisco Forty-Niners to a victory over the Cincinnati Bengals. The champ you love to hate, John McEnroe, was the winner of the tennis world's premier event, Wimbledon, defeating the seemingly invincible Bjorn Borg. Sugar Ray Robinson stayed sweet in the boxing ring, and North Carolina's Dean Smith finally gained the ultimate title in basketball after seven tries.

The year 1981-82 was unique indeed, and yet, it ended with the perennial hope of a better future for America as well as the world.

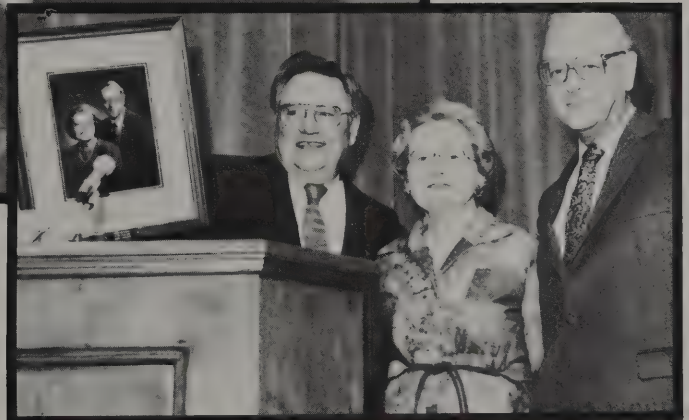

In Memoriam

BATSELL BARRETT BAXTER

Professor Of Bible And Chairman
Of The Department of Bible

There walked among us a man who truly deserved to have it said of him, "A Christ-like man." So many words could be used to describe Brother Baxter and yet none are sufficient in and of themselves. To know him at all was to appreciate his stand for the right, unmoved and ever dedicated to the work of his Lord. We knew him, we loved him, and we appreciated him.

LIPSCOMB IS PEOPLE

Laughter ... contemplation ... anticipation ... diligence ... spirit ... quietness ... involvement ... excitement ... contentment ... Lipscomb is people ... together we share campus life.

I have come to the end of this book and my term as Backlog editor. Here I must follow tradition and do two things: Comment on the book and say thank you.

This Backlog experience has been very educational. I have learned more about sports, clubs, photography, faculty, and DLC than I have ever dreamed possible. I have found that work can be very exciting, particularly with some crazy people to keep it interesting.

I hope that you will be as proud of your 1982 Backlog as I am. The Backlog staff has received no recompense except a solid feeling of accomplishment. The satisfaction came in producing a publication that pictured the present against the backdrop of the past. Please excuse the shortcomings of this book. The Backlog staff has tried to bring you a book that would represent Lipscomb life.

Special thanks are due to Landon Pendergrass for his patience and help, as well as his ability to produce excellent layouts, to Lisa Robinson for acting as a student advisor, and to Dixie Gaw for her ability to make words flow smoothly. Also, I am grateful for the photography work produced by Chris Hyche and Chuck Negas. I would like to thank Mr. and Mrs. Hutcheson for their guidance, understanding, and encouragement. A special thanks is owed to Ruby Sanders, Dawn Whitelaw, and Ralph Thurman for their beautiful art work. And thank you Corine Jackson for the proof reading.

Staff members are scarce but there were a few dedicated individuals to whom I am extremely grateful. I have mentioned those people above. There were several others such as Stephen Henry, and Rae and Roxanne Hudson who were very helpful. I was so fortunate to have such a dedicated staff.

I have come to the end of this book and to the end of a beneficial experience. This book is part of me . . . perhaps the reader will find himself here, too. I am happy we could share this year.

Editor

Anita LeCroy

Moments shared . . . friendships found . . . thoughts stimulated . . .
ideas grasped . . . ideals strengthened . . . love learned . . . Lipscomb is the place where we have searched, stretched, and grown. With beginning, without end . . . graduation will serve as the open door through which we carry these traditions and impressions — all a part of us forever — into new horizons that await us.
